Reds Shell Dozen Provincial Capitals

Cong Troops Driven Out After Seizure Of Hospital

SAIGON (AP) — Three hundred Viet Cong troops invaded a provincial capital at the southern end of Vietnam today and seized the hospital, but government troops drove them out of the city after a day-long fight. Military spokesmen said 152 of the Communists were slain.

The Communists also shelled a dozen provincial capitals, six district towns, and 14 military bases and camps including the U.S. base at Cam Ranh Bay, once considered the safest spot in South Vietnam. It was the second straight day of widespread shelling.

Although runways were pitted, Cam Ranh Bay was not severely damaged and flights were not delayed. This is the base President Johnson visited in his two trips to Vietnam since he became president, in November 1966 and last Dec. 23.

Allied communiques reported more than 500 Communist troops were killed Monday and Tuesday, many of them in fighting unrelated to the enemy shellings.

In the air war, U.S. B52s kept up the pressure on the North Vietnamese encircling the Marine base at Khe Sanh in the far northwest. They laid down a carpet of bombs in five separate raids north and west of the Marine lines.

The attacks on the cities and camps followed Monday's shelling of seven air bases, two U.S. Command posts and four other installations. Most of the two-day shellings were not followed up by ground attacks.

One provincial capital hit was Can Tho, the delta nerve center for both military and civilian operations 80 miles southwest of Saigon. The government reported 13 civilians killed.

It was different, however, at Ca Nau, a provincial capital of about 40,000 people at the tip of the Mekong Delta 153 miles southwest of Saigon. The Viet Cong invaded the city after a softening up barrage for mortars and recoilless rifles.

One company seized the provincial hospital and held it for 11 hours before government reinforcements retook it.

Sporadic mortar and recoilless rifle fire continued late in the day. Allied fighter-bombers, helicopter gunships and artillery joined the ground troops against the Viet Cong forces, who were reported to have split into small groups throughout the town.

South Vietnamese military headquarters said 110 Viet Cong troops had been killed and 42 weapons captured at Ca Mau. Government casualties were said to be light.

Communist gunners fired 15 mortar rounds at the Cam Ranh base, but military spokesmen said most of them landed northeast of the base. Several rounds holed the main runway and taxiway, but aircraft continued to fly in and out. One round hit in a fuel storage area, and a spokesman said there was "some fuel lost."

At the same time, the Communists shelled a small airfield for Army spotter planes seven miles north of Cam Ranh Bay.

No casualties were reported in either attack.

Both South Vietnamese and U.S. headquarters said that except at Ca Mau, casualties and

Lausche, Thurmond Offer Antiriot Measure

Fight Vowed Against Bid For Rider On Rights Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Backers of a civil rights protection-open housing bill, victors in a showdown over bringing the measure to a vote, vow to fight a bid to hook on an antiriot rider.

A measure that could make it a federal crime to go from one state to another—or to use radio, television or other interstate facilities—with intent to incite a riot was offered as an amendment by Sens. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, and Strom Thurmond, R-S.C.

The antiriot proposal was called up just before the Senate adjourned Monday night after a day in which a seven-week filibuster against the compromise civil rights bill was broken.

The vote to close out debate on the compromise measure was 65 to 32, just enough for the required two-thirds majority. Three ealier attempts to invoke the Senate's debate-limiting cloture rule had failed.

The bill's supporters jubilantly hailed the vote as assuring Senate passage, although controversial open-housing section may have to be modified further.

With the cloture rule in effect, each senator's speaking time on the compromise and all amendments to it is limited to one hour—or a total of 100 hours if each senator uses all his allotted time.

However, once all the amendments have been acted on, unlimited debate will be possible on passage of the bill. If opponents launch a second filibuster, cloture would have to be voted again.

Although President Johnson has called for antiriot legislation, Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich.—floor manager for the civil rights measure—said he would resist the Lausche-Thurmond amendment.

Hart said such legislation should be handled separately. He also noted the administration has not yet submitted its proposal.

Voting on other amendments began quickly after cloture was put into effect. By day's end, seven amendments had been adopted and two rejected.

Byrd, in urging adoption of his amendment, said "if property rights go, freedom will have gone."

In addition to its open-housing provisions, the bill would make it at federal crime to interfere with violence or threats of violence with specifically enumerated, federally protected rights including voting, attending school and serving on juries. The measure is intended to protect the rights of Negroes and civil rights workers.

Would Apology Win Crew's Release?

U.S. Studies Admission Of Guilt In Pueblo Case

WASHINGTON (AP) — Administration officials are trying to determine whether any U.S. admission of guilt and apology to North Korea would win release of the intelligence ship Pueblo and 82 surviving crewmen captured six weeks ago.

The basic problem President Johnson and his advisers face is whether the United States can or should admit and apologize for something—the Pueblo's alleged intrusion into North Korean territorial waters—which officials say they don't believe the ship did.

The apology issue came into sharp public focus Monday with North Korea's broadcast of a letter to President Johnson which Pyong Yang Radio said was signed by all 82 crew members.

The contents of the letter had already been dispatched to the President by U.S. negotiators at Panmunjom Korea, who had received it from North Korean representatives.

The letter claimed the Pueblo "intruded into the territorial waters" of North Korea at five different points. It said the crewmen believe "our repatriation can be realized only when our government frankly admits the fact that we intruded into the territorial waters of (North Korea) and committed hostile acts, and sincerely apologizes for these acts and gives assurance that they will not be repeated."

The first concern of administration authorities was to try to determine the authenticity of the signatures on the letter. It was reported that the Panmunjom negotiators were speeding the text to Washington for study of the signatures.

The letter's emphasis on admitting violations of North Korea's territorial waters and apologizing was reportedly in line with demands by North Korean negotiators in a series of closed Panmunjom meetings. The 10th such meeting was held Sunday night.

It is understood—although not officially confirmed in Washington—that North Korea has indicated such steps by the United States could lead to the settlement of the Pueblo problem.

Following North Korea's Jan. 23 seizure of the ship, U.S. officials denied the charge the Pueblo had violated North Korean territory. They said it was operating under orders to remain outside North Korea's 12-mile limit.

Road Project Cost Placed At $300,000

Development of the Highland-town recreation area and an anticipated traffic increase necessitates partial relocation of 1.6-mile of Washington Township Rd. 77/3, the Ohio Department of Highways said today.

The section, north of Ohio 39, will be widened to 36 feet with a 20-foot pavement. Alignment will be straightened and grades improved. Twin culverts will replace a narrow steel bridge across Little Yellow Creek.

The department plans to open bids at Columbus May 5 on the $300,000 project.

Traffic will be maintained on the existing roadway until construction is completed.

Masked Man Uses Gas In Theft 'Repeat'

Using the same method of operation employed about 24 hours earlier, a masked bandit pulled a repeat performance Monday night at an area service station.

The bandit robbed the Highway Oil Co. on Route 68 in Ohioville Borough at 11:40 p.m., and then sprayed tear gas into the eyes of his victim.

A bandit robbed another Highway Oil Co. station in the area Sunday night and also sprayed the attendant with tear gas.

Between $40 and $60 cash was taken by the man who brandished a revolver at Fred Sams, attendant at the station on the Midland - East Liverpool Rd.

After he turned over the money, Sams was hit in the face by the spray from the tear gas can.

Ohioville Police Chief Bernard Zlatovich and Patrolman Leo LeFebvre investigated.

They said Sams' description of the bandit fits that of the man who robbed the station along Route 30 in Greene Township near the West Virginia line

Ohioville Borough firemen extinguished a blaze at the home of Melvin Javens of the Old Smiths Ferry - Georgetown Rd. at 4 a. m. today.

A pumphouse and the contents were destroyed by the fire. Javens' foundation home suffered minor damage.

Most of the business places destroyed or damaged in the $900,000 fire Sunday will rise again from the ashes like the legendary Phoenix, the owners said today as a demolition crew continued the job of leveling the walls of the gutted Siff Building to eliminate a public safety hazard.

Some of the business places will be reopened as quickly as possible in other downtown locations, their owners commented. Other retailers, still surveying their losses, said they are uncertain about future plans.

Fire Chief Alfred VanDyne said work may be completed by this afternoon on razing the towering walls of the Siff Building, where the fire centered.

CAUSE OF the blaze remained uncertain today, as VanDyne continued an investigation.

The possibility of a cigarette or another flammable object used by a vagrant in the second floor area was among causes being studied.

A SPOKESMAN for Gilbert Shoe Stores, Inc., who owned the Siff outlet, said an East Liverpool facility will be opened again as soon as possible. The spokesman said the firm is looking for another site downtown.

Plans for the future are uncertain for Roberts Jewelry Store, adjacent to the Siff store and also an apparent total loss in the blaze.

Meanwhile, Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey said the section of E. 6th St. between the Diamond and Broadway—closed since the fire — will be reopened to vehicular traffic today.

Group Enters New Appeal In Water Plan

LISBON — The proposed $621,000 St. Clair Water District is headed for court again.

A group which last fall lost an appeal from the county commissioners' decision to proceed now has filed an appeal to Common Pleas Court.

The new appeal comes after the commissioners have advertised for construction bids to be opened April 4 at the Courthouse.

Alexander & Savinell, Steubenville legal firm, filed the appeal notice with Judge Louis Tobin of Probate Court and with Prosecuting Atty. J. Warren Bettis, who represents the county commissioners.

Judge Tobin ruled against the appellants last fall on a technicality. The final order signed Feb. 14 held that the appellants failed to follow the statutory requirements in the first appeal.

Defense counsel says the appeal is taken to Common Pleas Court "on questions of law and fact for the reason that a record was not taken so that a bill of exceptions may be prepared."

The appellants are Karl Deshler, State Route 170; Roy F. Seitz, Substation RD 2; Paul J. Vincent, Y. & O. Rd., RD 1; John Geisz, Substation Rd.; Jack F. Wain Jr., Maple Dr., Calcutta, and Thelma McIntosh, Lisbon St., Gleanmoor.

Nixon Backed By Goldwater And '64 Team

Could Not Support Rockefeller, Barry Says In Interview

WASHINGTON (AP) — Barry Goldwater, saying he could not support Nelson A. Rockefeller for the Republican nomination for president, has reported nearly all his 1964 team is working for Richard M. Nixon.

"I and my fellow conservatives want no part of Rockefeller," said the 1964 Republican presidential candidate.

He noted the New York governor had not actively backed him in 1964.

Goldwater also said in a telephone interview from his Phoenix, Ariz., home he has never voted against a Republican presidential candidate but would have reservations about Rockefeller.

"I would have to see some change in his positions," Goldwater said. "I would have to know his position on Vietnam. I have never heard his position on the war. I don't think he could come out as a dove but I just don't know where he stands.'

He said he also wants to know Rockefeller's stand on the labor issue and criticized the governor's handling of the recent New York City garbage strike.

"He is going to have to make some rather strong cases on these issues," Goldwater said. "There are a lot of members of our party who won't support him as matters stand."

Bill On Gas Rates May Be Doomed

Council Monday night gave the second of three required readings to a new ordinance allowing a rate increase to the Ohio Valley Gas Co. as part of a four-year agreement, but a split vote indicated the legislation may be defeated when it comes up for final enactment March 18.

A move to suspend the rules and approve the legislation immediately was defeated by a 4-3 vote last night. If the lineup does not change in the meantime, the ordinance will not be able to muster sufficient favorable votes at the meeting two weeks from last night.

Councilmen Donal I. Burcham, Frank P. Duffy, James Lowe and Edward Massey voted against the immediate enactment, which would have precluded the need for a separate third reading. ""Yes" votes were cast by Councilmen Floyd Murray, Robert W. Sample and John Wilson.

New Hancock County Jail Contract Let At $427,000

A Weirton firm has been awarded the contract for construction of the new Hancock County jail on a bid of $427,000.

The other two bids were $426,700 by the Guy Johnson Construction Co. of Steubenville and $424,424 by the Floyd C. Cox Co. of East Liverpool.

The commissioners pointed out that while the Weirton bid is the highest of the three on the basic price, according to computation by the architectural firm of Val Curtis and Associates of Toledo, the completed price might be the lowest when the aggregate cost is considered.

Commissioner Edward Nogay moved to award the contract to the Trushel firm. Commissioner Jack Evans and William C. Graham supported the action.

It was noted Trushel would complete the construction within 280 days. The prices for "extras" would amount to only 12 per cent for work done by the firm and only 10 per cent of that done by sub-contractors, commissioners said.

The commissioners noted these factors made it more feasible to award the bid to the Weirton firm.

They pointed out the factor of other expenses the county must bear while the project is being done will not be as great due to lesser construction time.

While the building is being erected, the prisoners must be

Youth Found Not Guilty In 'Shakedown'

Veney Acquitted By Jurors During Hearing At Lisbon

A Common Pleas Court jury at Lisbon returned a verdict of "not guilty" Monday afternoon for John Veney, 19, of Ruth St., East Liverpool, charged with obtaining money under false pretenses.

Veney testified he knew of a plan to obtain money from a local man by promising to return to him valuable papers, but the defendant said he refused to participate.

The only other defense witness was John's mother, Mrs. John Veney Sr., who said John told her about an arrangement some other young men had made and she advised him to have nothing to do with it.

Harry Cahill of 1090 Ohio Ave. testified his home was burglarized Dec. 26 and the thieves got $3,000 in savings bonds, jewelry and $200 in change. Nothing has been recovered.

The state claimed Veney was party to a plan to get $200 from Cahill by promising to deliver to him the stolen bonds.

The state's key witness was Herman Powell, 17, of 1224 Erie St., who said Robert Jackson called Cahill to set up the payoff and that Veney knew about it and offered to pick up the money himself if he didn't have to work.

Detective Capt. Kenneth Mooney and Detective Lt. William Devon of the local police department traced the second call to Cahill, found that it originated in Bloor's Pharmacy on Pennsylvania Ave. and hurried there in time to see Jackson talking on the telephone and Powell and Veney standing near by. The officers said all three came out of the drugstore together "laughing and

A Weirton firm has been awarded the contract for construction of the new Hancock County jail on a bid of $427,000.

The other two bids were $426,700 by the Guy Johnson Construction Co. of Steubenville and $424,424 by the Floyd C. Cox Co. of East Liverpool.

The commissioners pointed out that while the Weirton bid is the highest of the three on the basic price, according to computation by the architectural firm of Val Curtis and Associates of Toledo, the completed price might be the lowest when the aggregate cost is considered.

Commissioner Edward Nogay moved to award the contract to the Trushel firm. Commissioner Jack Evans and William C. Graham supported the action.

It was noted Trushel would complete the construction within 280 days. The prices for "extras" would amount to only 12 per cent for work done by the firm and only 10 per cent of that done by sub-contractors, commissioners said.

The commissioners noted these factors made it more feasible to award the bid to the Weirton firm.

They pointed out the factor of other expenses the county must bear while the project is being done will not be as great due to lesser construction time.

While the building is being erected, the prisoners must be

Youth Found Not Guilty In 'Shakedown'

A Common Pleas Court jury at Lisbon returned a verdict of "not guilty" Monday afternoon for John Veney, 19, of Ruth St., East Liverpool, charged with obtaining money under false pretenses.

Veney testified he knew of a plan to obtain money from a local man by promising to return to him valuable papers, but the defendant said he refused to participate.

The only other defense witness was John's mother, Mrs. John Veney Sr., who said John told her about an arrangement some other young men had made and she advised him to have nothing to do with it.

Harry Cahill of 1090 Ohio Ave. testified his home was burglarized Dec. 26 and the thieves got $3,000 in savings bonds, jewelry and $200 in change. Nothing has been recovered.

The state claimed Veney was party to a plan to get $200 from Cahill by promising to deliver to him the stolen bonds.

The state's key witness was Herman Powell, 17, of 1224 Erie St., who said Robert Jackson called Cahill to set up the payoff and that Veney knew about it and offered to pick up the money himself if he didn't have to work.

Detective Capt. Kenneth Mooney and Detective Lt. William Devon of the local police department traced the second call to Cahill, found that it originated in Bloor's Pharmacy on Pennsylvania Ave. and hurried there in time to see Jackson talking on the telephone and Powell and Veney standing near by. The officers said all three came out of the drugstore together "laughing and

In Ohio Unemployment Program

Training Pays Off, BES Declares

By VIC CHASE
Associated Press Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's unemployment program is making training pay off in savings for the state's private employers.

The agency paid out $70.9 million in unemployment benefits last year, compared to $264.7 million paid to non-workers in 1961.

Money for training programs comes largely from the federal government. Money for unemployment compensation comes from about 120,000 private employers in Ohio.

The Ohio Bureau of Employment Services joined in a training program in 1962. Since then it has sent more than 31,000 persons into classes. About 20,000 have graduated and 80 per cent of those are now paying their way.

CONTRARY to its name, the bureau is more concerned with training persons for gainful employment that it is in doling out unemployment compensation.

Willard P. Dudley, bureau administrator, explained that there are comparatively few unemployed people today. Because of the continually advancing technology of our society, those who do not have jobs usually are those who lack proper skills.

Dudley said employers who have three or more persons working for them, are subject to an unemployment tax ranging up to 4.2 per cent of the first $3,000 earned by each employe.

Non-profit and governmental organizations are exempted from this.

The amount paid by each employer is determined by the number of his past employes who have received unemployment compensation.

Federal funds, on the other hand, are used to pay for the administrative operation of the state bureau. This plan is a holdover from the first unemployment compensation program, which was run completely by the federal government.

EVENTUALLY, a law was passed allowing each state to set up its own unemployment bureau to be operated with federal ufnds.

These federal funds come from a four tenths of one per cent tax imposed on employers, on the first $3,000 paid to each of his employes. The money is then earmarked in Washington for distribution to the various states.

Ohioans wishing to claim unemployment benefits must have worked a minimum of 20 weeks during the 52 weeks preceeding the week in which they were layed off.

They are then eligible, on a one-to-one ratio, for 20 weeks of unemployment compensation. Beyond that they have to have two weeks of work for one week of benefits until they reach the maximum of 26 benefit weeks.

As base compensation the unployed person eligible for benefits is permitted to draw 50 per cent of his average salary, with a maximum of $65 per week.

The $70.9 million of unemployment compensation in Ohio last year went to an average of 44,082 persons weekly.

DURING the same year there were 5,337 cases of suspected fraudulent claims, out of which 2,311 fraud orders were issued. These orders are issued after investigation when the evidence indicates that benefits were obtained or that the attempt to obtain benefits existed by fraudulent means.

The amount paid in fraudulent claims in 1967 totaled $329,583, while $279,331 of fraudulent pavments were recovered.

In 1963 the number of suspected fraud cases rose to 8,821 compared with 6,618 in 1962, but since then the trend in suspected frauds and in fraud orders issued has decreased.

"We tightened up in 1963 and started publicizing primarily for the purpose of giving ample warning that fraud would not be tolerated," Dudley said. "'I believe this has had the desired effect."

THE NUMBER of new fraud cases established in 1963 cost about $1.5 million, while $485,982.09 was recovered during the same year. In 1964, however, the amount paid in fraudulent claims fell to $922,573.20, with the amount recovered at $477,083.20.

"It should be borne in mind that recovery is not always possible, and customarily we give these people all the latitude possible to make restitution," Dudley said.

"This results in extended payments and consequently the recovery in a given month would not reflect restitutions of the violations uncovered or determinded during that same month."

The trend in the average number of people receiving unemployment benefits has declined since 1961. During that year some 139,676 claimed benefits each week, in 1962 the number dropped to 96,434 and continued to taper off each year until 1966 when it hit a low of 33,324 claimants per week. In 1967, the total bounced back slightly to 44,082.

'Mutual Aid' Eyed

Study Scheduled On Help In Fires

Mayor George E. Willshaw asked Council Monday night to make a new investigation of the possibility of signing mutual aid fire protection agreements with neighboring communities.

Sunday night's major fire in the Diamond demonstrated again the value of contracts under which East Liverpool and adjoining communities formerly banded together to provide men and equipment to fight large conflagrations, the mayor said. He said Wellsville is the only area community with which East Liverpool now has a mutual aid agreement.

FIREMEN FROM a dozen communities throughout the region helped in battling the $900,000 fire Sunday night.

"I would like to see Council appoint a committee to look into the possibility of setting up reciprocal agreements again," the mayor said. "The value of the help from other departments was demonstrated graphically in the fire Sunday night."

East Liverpool once had such agreements with several nearby cities, including Midland and Chester, but they were not renewed because of legal complications posed by local firemen going out of state to work.

Council President Norman Bucher named Council Floyd Murray, Donal I. Burcham and John Wilson to confer on the question of fire contracts with the mayor and Solicitor J. Michael Kapp.

Virtually every member of Council joined in praising the local and out - of - town firemen, the police department, Civil Defense workers and area law enforcement officers for their aid during the blaze Sunday night. Council approved a motion by Murray to send a letter to each community which sent firemen and equipment, thanking them for their help.

COUNCIL also approved a motion by Burcham to send a letter to Kent State University asking it to send its traffic experts to East Liverpool to make a study of local conditions and present recommendations for changes. The letter will include a request for an estimate of the cost, if any.

A city employes' union filed a letter requesting a general $80-a-month boost for its members; an increase of $1,000 in city - paid life insurance; two days' annual leave for personal business and other fringe benefits.

The letter was presented by Local 677, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes, which represents most workers outside the fire and police departments.

The finance committee was given a letter from the Health Board advising it has granted a boost from $100 to $115 in the monthly car allowances of Jack Bonner, health commissioner, Ben Weber, sanitary officer, and Miss Selma Ladzinske, public health nurse.

The Board of Public Utilities filed a letter with the committee asking a raise from $435 to $468 a month for J. G. Ilmstead, water meter repairman. It also asked an $1,800 appropriation to replace a 30-year-old pump in the high service system at the water plant in Klondyke.

THE CLAIMS committee was given a bill for $79.58 from John B. Kass of 913 Vine St., who said the windshield of his car was damaged Feb. 9 on St. Clair Ave. by ashes being scattered by a street department truck.

The street committee was given a petition with nine signers asking Council to vacate an unnamed alley from the north line of Sutton Alley to the south line of Ogden St. The alley parallels St. John St. and Lincoln Ave., according to a sketch accompanying the petition.

Murray gave the claims committee a $15 bill against the city from Mrs. Mary Maola of Wedgewood St. It represents a plumber's bill resulting from a blocked sewer, Murray said.

Murray said the finance committee is continuing to work on the 1968 appropriation ordinance and hopes to present it at the March 18 meeting.

Council received an invitation from the fire department to attend a dinner March 19 at 6:30 p.m. in the Central Station marking the 50th anniversary of the International Association of Firefighters. The meeting opened with invocation by Murray. Council extended a welcome to Councilman Frank Duffy, who returned after a recent damage from the Communist attacks today were light.

The U.S. Command, reporting on nine locations shelled within a 70-mile arc of Saigon, said less than 20 mortar rounds landed at each location, one American was killed, five were wounded and no significant damage was reported.

The heaviest ground fighting Monday was reported at Tuy Hoa, a provincial capital 290 miles northeast of Saigon. American and South Vietnamese forces reported killing 206 Communist soldiers in a day-long battle. Five Americans were killed and 16 wounded, spokesmen said, while government casualties were light.

Units of the U.S. Americal Division reported killing 59 enemy soldiers near Tam Ky, 350 miles northeast of Saigon, and said 18 Americans were wounded.

Communist attacks on South Korean and South Vietnamese positions touched off two other battles. A South Korean spokesman said a guard opened up with bazooka-type rockets on enemy troops moving against a Korean artillery position and Korean troops moved in on the Communists, killing 38. No Korean casualties were reported in the clash near Qui Nhon, 265 miles northeast of Saigon.

Eight miles north of Saigon, near Lai Thieu, South Vietnamese troops repulsed an enemy attack and killed 42 guerrillas, a government spokesman said. He said government casualties were light.

At Khe Sanh, the besieged northwest frontier outpost, an air observer spotted a column of about 600 enemy soldiers moving toward the base. U.S. Marines at the base opened up with artillery and called in air strikes. The air observer reported at least 18 enemy soldiers were killed.

Meanwhile, North Vietnamese gunners fired about 150 artillery, rocket and mortar rounds into the base Monday, U.S. Marine headquaretrs at Da Nang said American casualties were light.

U.S. fighter-bombers raiding North Vietnam struck a boat yard six miles southwest of Hanoi for the first time in the war Monday. They also hit an antiaircraft missile site 10 miles from the capital.

Calendar Set Up For School Year

The East Liverpool Board of Education approved a 184-day calendar for the 1968-69 term Monday night.

Over the protests of Board President Samuel Brown and Thomas Rodfong, both of whom voted not to accept the proposed schedule as it was presented, the board agreed to begin the new school term on Sept. 3 with a teachers' meeting and conclude on June 9 with a work day for the instructors.

Brown declared he is not in agreement with the schedule, since it does not include Nov. 11, Veterans Day, as a holiday. Brown also said he would like to see June 9 cut from the teachers' schedules since it will require them to return for a day after a weekend to complete end-of-the-year business.

BROWN explained he feels the local board should recognize Veterans Day as a holiday in the system, despite the fact that the administration contends the programs carried out that day provide a better background of the day's meaning than if students were not required to attend classes.

The acceptance of the proposal came with the stipulation that the administration will attempt to eliminate the return of teachers on June 9 if possible.

School will be in session 180 days. Added to that total are three days when teachers will hold professional meetings and the work day.

The Christmas holiday will run from Dec. 23 to Jan. 3 and the Easter break April 3-7. Thanksgiving vacation will be Nov. 28-29. The only other holiday to be observed is Memorial Day, May 30. Teachers' meetings will be held Sept. 3, Nov. 1 and Feb. 21.

THE BOARD was informed that Asst. Supt. Carl Pelini has obtained a film and tape from the Ohio Department of Education for presentation here April 1. The film deals with minimum standards for secondary school systems.

Doyle Shumaker, chief of the secondary section of the Department of Education, will take part in the program, which will begin at 7:30 p. m. An hour's discussion will follow the presentation.

Pelini said area schoolteachers and administrators will be invited to attend along with local school board members, teachers and the public, since, he explained, it probably will be some time before the film is available in the area again.

The board commended the high school basketball team for the fine past performances and wished members luck this week in continued tournament play.

ATTENDANCE officer Harold West reported investigation of 212 cases of absenteeism during February.

Investigations revealed the following reasons for absence: Personal illness, 78; family illness, 2; death in family, 2; moving of residence, 3; truancy, 69; held from classes by parents, 25; erroneously reported, 12; working, 9, and absent for appearance in court, 12.

West said he held 38 conferences on attendance with parents during the month, sent 21 legal notices and referred four cases to police for conferences.

Edna Jones, school health nurse, reported the following services performed during February: First - aid treatments given, 168; partial physical exams, 62; schools visited, 105; home calls, 84. She said there were 45 cases of mumps, 59 cases of chicken pox, 61 cases of measles and 19 cases of impetigo.

In addition, a number of defects in pupils were rechecked for corrections and immunization records also were rechecked in some instances.

Judge Clears Woman In State Patrol Case

EAST PALESTINE — Dorothy M. Gaskill, 48, of Maple Dr., New Waterford, charged with driving while intoxicated Jan. 24, was found not guilty by County Judge D. Barry Dickson Monday.

The woman was cited by the Ohio Highway Patrol on County Rd. 421 between Columbiana and New Waterford by an officer who was investigating a mishap in that area.

Communist World Parley Will Be Held

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP) — The Budapest meeting of 66 Communist parties ends tonight with a compromise agreement to hold a world Communist conference but not to draft the new general statement of Communist principles Moscow wanted.

The conference, to be held in Moscow by the end of this year, will be limited to formulating a declaration of the parties' political attitudes on "concentrating the anti imperialist forces." A related declaration will express solidarity with the Vietnamese Communists and call for peace on Communist terms.

The Russians wanted the conference to draft a new statement of Communist principles, replacing a 1960 statement which was so much a compromise between Soviet and Chinese views that it can be used to support almost any ideological attitude.

Kommunist, the Soviet party's theoretical journal, said at the end of 1967 that there is a need to bring up to date "the common ideological-political positions on the basic issues of our time" because since 1960 "there have naturally accumulated quite a few new problems which should be solved."

Vote With Majority

WASHINGTON (AP)— Sens. Frank J. Lausche and Stephen M. Young, Ohio Democrats, voted with the majority Monday as the Senate invoked cloture to limit debate on the civil rights bill by a vote of 65 to 32.

Would Warn Against Soviet Bomb

Over-The-Horizon Radar Due By U.S. In Britain

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States plans to build a new over-the-horizon radar in Britain that sources said would give this country adequate warning against the Soviet Union's new orbital bomb.

The new radar will reportedly have the ability to peek around the earth's curvature and spot approaching missiles or orbital devices.

Existing line-of-sight radars, including the ballistic missile early warning system extending across Canada and in Britain, can detect hostile rockets only after they rise above the horizon.

The new over-the-horizon radar would be operated in Britain under a joint agreement similar to that covering an early-warning installation at Fylingsdale Moor.

Officially the Pentagon was mum on the matter Monday, acknowledging only that the United States is talking with Britain on several projects, including over-the-horizon radar.

Former Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara said last November the new radar would be a countermeasure to the Soviets' so-called Fractional Orbital Bombardment System.

Retired Air Force Gen. Bernard A. Schriever told a National Space Club audience in Washington Monday night the orbital missile is the most significant element in the Soviet's new strategic force.

Schriever, who headed development of the U.S. ballistic missile and space system and who often clashed with McNamara over aviation-space goals, added: "Every indication points toward the development by the Soviet Union of still more sophisticated space systems, including improved versions of orbital weapons."

He said the comparative strength of the U.S. missile force is steadily declining while the Soviets are enlarging their force by some 200 missiles annually.

McNamara said the Soviets probably were developing the orbital bomb as a weapon to destroy U.S. strategic bombers before they could take off in wartime.

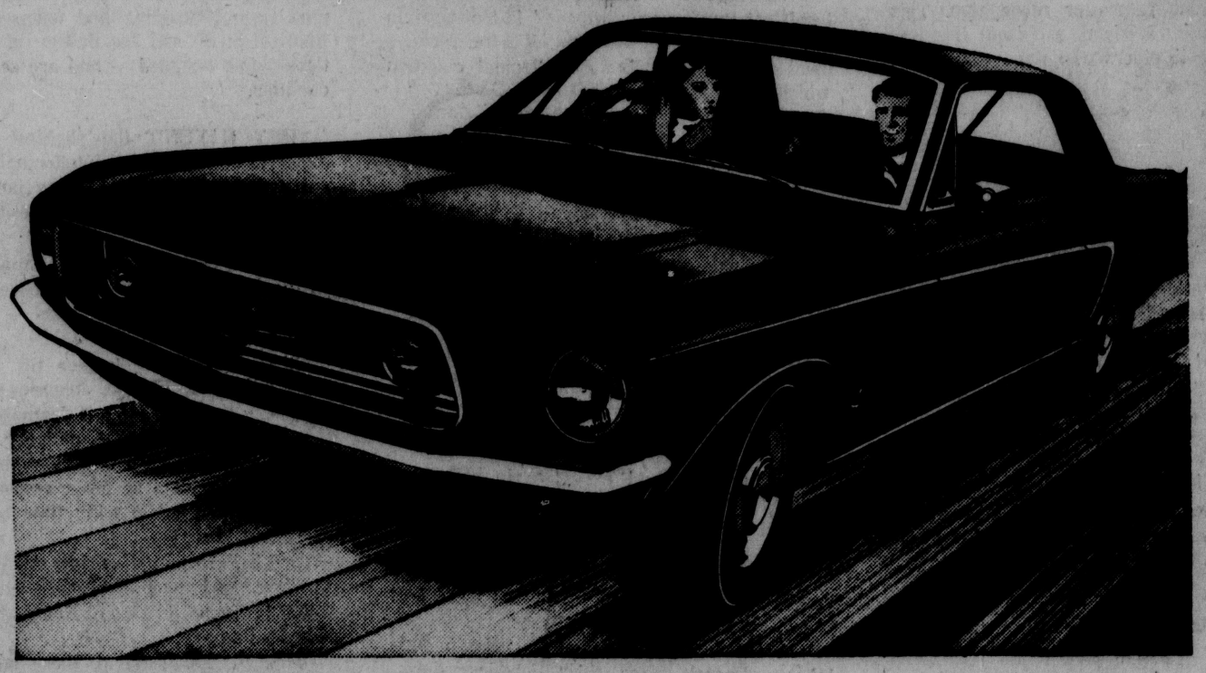

The Soviet weapon, because of a low trajectory, could be detected by existing radar only about three minutes before blasting Strategic Air Command bases, giving the United States virtually no time to get its bombers aloft.

By contrast, radars in the ballistic missile early warning system are supposed to provide 15 minutes alert time against incoming missiles.

McNamara said installation of over-the-horizon radar units would allow the United States to recapture the necessary 15 minutes warning time so far as the Soviets' Fractional Orbital Bombardment System is concerned.

'Mutual Aid' Eyed

Study Scheduled On Help In Fires

Mayor George E. Willshaw asked Council Monday night to make a new investigation of the possibility of signing mutual aid fire protection agreements with neighboring communities.

Sunday night's major fire in the Diamond demonstrated again the value of contracts under which East Liverpool and adjoining communities formerly banded together to provide men and equipment to fight large conflagrations, the mayor said. He said Wellsville is the only area community with which East Liverpool now has a mutual aid agreement.

FIREMEN FROM a dozen communities throughout the region helped in battling the $900,000 fire Sunday night.

"I would like to see Council appoint a committee to look into the possibility of setting up reciprocal agreements again," the mayor said. "The value of the help from other departments was demonstrated graphically in the fire Sunday night."

East Liverpool once had such agreements with several nearby cities, including Midland and Chester, but they were not renewed because of legal complications posed by local firemen going out of state to work.

Council President Norman Bucher named Council Floyd Murray, Donal I. Burcham and John Wilson to confer on the question of fire contracts with the mayor and Solicitor J. Michael Kapp.

Virtually every member of Council joined in praising the local and out - of - town firemen, the police department, Civil Defense workers and area law enforcement officers for their aid during the blaze Sunday night. Council approved a motion by Murray to send a letter to each community which sent firemen and equipment, thanking them for their help.

COUNCIL also approved a motion by Burcham to send a letter to Kent State University asking it to send its traffic experts to East Liverpool to make a study of local conditions and present recommendations for changes. The letter will include a request for an estimate of the cost, if any.

A city employes' union filed a letter requesting a general $80-a-month boost for its members; an increase of $1,000 in city - paid life insurance; two days' annual leave for personal business and other fringe benefits.

The letter was presented by Local 677, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes, which represents most workers outside the fire and police departments.

The finance committee was given a letter from the Health Board advising it has granted a boost from $100 to $115 in the monthly car allowances of Jack Bonner, health commissioner, Ben Weber, sanitary officer, and Miss Selma Ladzinske, public health nurse.

The Board of Public Utilities filed a letter with the committee asking a raise from $435 to $468 a month for J. G. Ilmstead, water meter repairman. It also asked an $1,800 appropriation to replace a 30-year-old pump in the high service system at the water plant in Klondyke.

THE CLAIMS committee was given a bill for $79.58 from John B. Kass of 913 Vine St., who said the windshield of his car was damaged Feb. 9 on St. Clair Ave. by ashes being scattered by a street department truck.

The street committee was given a petition with nine signers asking Council to vacate an unnamed alley from the north line of Sutton Alley to the south line of Ogden St. The alley parallels St. John St. and Lincoln Ave., according to a sketch accompanying the petition.

Murray gave the claims committee a $15 bill against the city from Mrs. Mary Maola of Wedgewood St. It represents a plumber's bill resulting from a blocked sewer, Murray said.

Murray said the finance committee is continuing to work on the 1968 appropriation ordinance and hopes to present it at the March 18 meeting.

Council received an invitation from the fire department to attend a dinner March 19 at 6:30 p.m. in the Central Station marking the 50th anniversary of the International Association of Firefighters. The meeting opened with invocation by Murray. Council extended a welcome to Councilman Frank Duffy, who returned after a recent

The U.S. Command, reporting on nine locations shelled within a 70-mile arc of Saigon, said less than 20 mortar rounds landed at each location, one American was killed, five were wounded and no significant damage was reported.

The heaviest ground fighting Monday was reported at Tuy Hoa, a provincial capital 230 miles northeast of Saigon. American and South Vietnamese forces reported killing 206 Communist soldiers in a day-long battle. Five Americans were killed and 16 wounded, spokesmen said, while government casualties were light.

Units of the U.S. Americal Division reported killing 59 enemy soldiers near Tam Ky, 350 miles northeast of Saigon, and said 18 Americans were wounded.

Communist attacks on South Korean and South Vietnamese positions touched off two other battles. A South Korean spokesman said a guard opened up with bazooka-type rockets on enemy troops moving against a Korean artillery position and Korean troops moved in on the Communists, killing 38. No Korean casualties were reported in the clash near Qui Nhon, 265 miles northeast of Saigon.

Eight miles north of Saigon, near Lai Thieu, South Vietnamese troops repulsed an enemy attack and killed 42 guerrillas, a government spokesman said. He said government casualties were light.

At Khe Sanh, the besieged northwest frontier outpost, an air observer spotted a column of about 600 enemy soldiers moving toward the base. U.S. Marines at the base opened up with artillery and called in air strikes. The air observer reported at least 18 enemy soldiers were killed.

Meanwhile, North Vietnamese gunners fired about 150 artillery, rocket and mortar rounds into the base Monday, U.S. Marine headquaretrs at Da Nang said American casualties were light.

U.S. fighter-bombers raiding North Vietnam struck a boat yard six miles southwest of Hanoi for the first time in the war Monday. They also hit an antiaircraft missile site 10 miles from the capital.

Calendar Set Up For School Year

The East Liverpool Board of Education approved a 184-day calendar for the 1968-69 term Monday night.

Over the protests of Board President Samuel Brown and Thomas Rodfong, both of whom voted not to accept the proposed schedule as it was presented, the board agreed to begin the new school term on Sept. 3 with a teachers' meeting and conclude on June 9 with a work day for the instructors.

Brown declared he is not in agreement with the schedule, since it does not include Nov. 11, Veterans Day, as a holiday. Brown also said he would like to see June 9 cut from the teachers' schedules since it will require them to return for a day after a weekend to complete end-of-the-year business.

BROWN explained he feels the local board should recognize Veterans Day as a holiday in the system, despite the fact that the administration contends the programs carried out that day provide a better background of the day's meaning than if students were not required to attend classes.

The acceptance of the proposal came with the stipulation that the administration will attempt to eliminate the return of teachers on June 9 if possible.

School will be in session 180 days. Added to that total are three days when teachers will hold professional meetings and the work day.

The Christmas holiday will run from Dec. 23 to Jan. 3 and the Easter break April 3-7. Thanksgiving vacation will be Nov. 28-29. The only other holiday to be observed is Memorial Day, May 30. Teachers' meetings will be held Sept. 3, Nov. 1 and Feb. 21.

THE BOARD was informed that Asst. Supt. Carl Pelini has obtained a film and tape from the Ohio Department of Education for presentation here April 1. The film deals with minimum standards for secondary school systems.

Doyle Shumaker, chief of the secondary section of the Department of Education, will take part in the program, which will begin at 7:30 p. m. An hour's discussion will follow the presentation.

Pelini said area schoolteachers and administrators will be invited to attend along with local school board members, teachers and the public, since, he explained, it probably will be some time before the film is available in the area again.

The board commended the high school basketball team for the fine past performances and wished members luck this week in continued tournament play.

Investigations revealed the following reasons for absence: Personal illness, 78; family illness, 2; death in family, 2; moving of residence, 3; truancy, 69; held from classes by parents, 25; erroneously reported, 12; working, 9, and absent for appearance in court, 12.

West said he held 38 conferences on attendance with parents during the month, sent 21 legal notices and referred four cases to police for conferences.

Edna Jones, school health nurse, reported the following services performed during February: First - aid treatments given, 168; partial physical exams, 62; schools visited, 105; home calls, 84. She said there were 45 cases of mumps, 59 cases of chicken pox, 61 cases of measles and 19 cases of impetigo.

In addition, a number of defects in pupils were rechecked for corrections and immunization records also were rechecked in some instances.

Legislative Issues Sidestepped

For all practical purposes, the reconvened session of the Ohio General Assembly has closed shop. A skeleton session will return to the statehouse March 20 to make the end official by adjourning sine die (subject to the call of the governor).

Much has been left undone by legislators.

Two important issues sidestepped by the General Assembly are public employe disputes and revision of the state's tax structure.

There was hope action would be taken in these fields because they involve pressing problems of concern to all Ohioans.

Senate Bill 30, a teacher and school employes negotiation bill, will be left to die in the House Rules Committee. Senate Bill 485, a measure dealing with public employe bargaining recognition, will die in the Senate Rules Committee.

Direct action on the bargaining issue was avoided when the Senate approved a resolution requesting the Legislative Service Commission to study the problem for the next 10 months and report to the legislature next year.

The need for immediate legislation on this question was obvious. Postponing the decision for 10 months isn't going to make it any easier.

In the other case, there already has been a study of Ohio's tax structure by a select group appointed last August. The committee studied the matter all last autumn including proposals to drop personal property taxes and reduce real estate taxes — but final recommendations never came.

Adding to the problem is the gnawing realization the General Assembly may dodge these and other major areas of unfinished legislative business when it reconvenes next year. There is no assurance the issues won't be side-tracked for more study, more deliberation.

Constitutents would do well to buttonhole their legislators during the next 10 months, ask for an explanation of his position on the issues, tell him their thoughts and demand prompt legislative action when the session begins next January.

The stalling tactics have gone on too long.

Who's Who, And Who's Not

History students—and observers of the political circus—are intrigued by a report coming out of New York over the weekend that Rep. Michael Kirwan (D) of Youngstown is on a list of 1,000 prominent Americans since the Colonial era.

The Gelo Research Co. has reportedly requested a photograph of Mike Kirwan to be used in a picture series on the most illustrious American since the days of the founding fathers.

Kirwan, a member of Congress since 1937, has achieved a number of successes as a legislator.

But the questions which historians find themselves asking are what do "prominent" and "illustrious" mean?

Mathematically, Kirwan doesn't stand a chance of fitting into the first 1,000 men and women of national stature who have made the most outstanding contributions to the whole of America.

EVEN IN TERMS of national prominence, the 36 Presidents and the notable men in their cabinets, in the Supreme Court, in the Congress during their administrations will account certainly for 200 or more. Add the names of top leaders in medicine, art, theater, literature, business, industry, labor, journalism, education, religion, science, law, finance, military, athletics, engineering and political parties for every three year period over the past 181 years, and one has a list of over 1,200.

That Kirwan wields extensive influence over expenditure of money cannot be denied. As ranking member of the House Appropriations Committee and as chairman of the Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee, he is able to help shape policies and change votes—as he has done in continuing efforts to have the U.S. build an Ohio River-Lake Erie canal.

Political scientists admire Mike for his power plays, his electioneering and his maneuverings. Historians recognize his role in the ever-changing structure of American representative government. The Mahoning Valley sees him as the white knight symbol of economic development; Pennsylvania judges him as a villain who would bring financial ruin.

KIRWAN IS "prominent" in many circles, but he is still in the fourth echelon of thousands of Americans in the National eye, past, and second echelon, present.

Should "Kirwan's Ditch" ever be dug, however, his name would become much more familiar to the American public, taxpayers in particular. . .

We would add our vote for Mike only if he could bring about a reform of the pork-barrel practices which has been an extravagant and unsavory aspect of the U.S. Congress since the 19th Century.

Pitching In

Large-scale or small, times of trouble rarely fail to bring acts of fellowship and generosity to those in need, to the men and women involved in meeting the trouble headon.

Sunday's nearly disastrous fire in East Liverpool's east brought instant help from firemen, police and organized volunteer agencies, it motivated hundreds of acts of kindness, solicitude and sacrifice.

Casual onlookers helped to move equipment, carry cans of gasoline, direct traffic and assist in other ways.

Kenny Rogers, Broadway service station operator, moved parked cars out of the fire zone, re-started three stalled pumpers and provided gasoline for many trucks—without charge.

John Rowley, another service station operator, closed his station at the foot of St. Clair to permit the driveways to be used for traffic between St. Clair and Lincoln and Dresden.

Mario's Chicken House contributed chicken and coffee for firemen, and the New York Restaurant on the Diamond kept men on duty supplied with coffee.

Others who contributed were Cassidy's Bakery and Restaurant of Wellsville, the Hot Dog Shoppe, Wellsville fire department auxiliary and Golden Star Dairyland, according to Red Cross officials.

These people and many more offered and gave without expecting return or recognition. This was part of being a friend, a citizen; this was part of service to others who were serving the whole city.

Purely Personal Observations

The trouble in Southeast Asia is that the other side's local troops fight with the strength of 10 but we cannot count on our local allies to fight at all. Not a single Russian or Chinese Communist has been killed in Vietnam.

I feel alternately amused and bored by the efforts of political impresarios to interest me in the presidential possibilities of leftovers from previous misadventures.

If I were female and could afford them, I would choose coats with super-fluffy fur collars that framed my face. The fact is, though, that if I were female I'd need to keep my face "framed," not to say "curtained."

The President's National Advisory Commission on Civil Disorders has issued an earnest, intelligent report, but I reject its sub-thesis that the Great Good Government could get rid of racial friction by spending scads of money. No one yet has learned how to buy a change of heart among racists, whether black or white.

Safest place to spend next summer, according to an 11-member presidential commission studying the problem of riots in big cities, will be in the open countryside, beyond the range of weaponry amassed in urban arsenals in anticipation of warfare in the streets when the temperature rises.

'We Feel It Serves No Useful Purpose To Clutter Things Up With Facts.'

'Going Up, Please?'

By Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON

President Lyndon Johnson had one of his better days last Thursday. He was stuck in an elevator in the Pentagon for 12 minutes and finally had to crawl up and out with retiring Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara. Ordinarily, this could have been a very embarrassing situation for the commander-in-chief, but, fortunately, a contingency plan had been worked out for just such an occasion.

Art Buchwald

As soon as it was announced that the President had been stuck in the elevator, a White House background press briefing was called. Walt Rostow, the President's aide, told reporters that the President had been planning for some time to get stuck in a Pentagon elevator, and it came as no surprise to anyone in the government that it had happened at this time.

"The fact that the President was only stuck for 12 minutes is proof that the faulty elevator failed to accomplish its mission. We consider this the death rattle for all the elevators in the Pentagon."

AT THE VERY moment that Rostow was holding his backgrounder, Dean Rusk was being questioned about the elevator at a press conference at the State Department. He said:

"Instead of you reporters writing about one bad elevator that went wrong, why don't you write about the other elevators that were working at that time? Why don't you print something good about American elevators for a change, rather than always pointing out what's wrong with them?"

A reporter said the fact that the President's elevator wasn't working was news; the fact that the other elevators were working wasn't news.

Flushed, Rusk turned to the reporter and said, "Whose side are you on?"

Gen. Earle Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, said that more troops would have to be provided for the elevators and he said the military leaders advocated the calling up of all elevator reserves.

Meanwhile, back at the Senate, Sens. Fulbright and Morse chastised the administration for escalating the elevator when it got stuck. Fulbright said the President should have sent the elevator down instead of up. Morse, on the other hand, said the elevator shouldn't have been there in the first place.

VICE PRESIDENT Hubert Humphrey, who was speaking in Chicago again, told the Optimists' Club:

"Nobody wants to get out of a stuck elevator more than the President. But at the same time Mr. Johnson has made a commitment to the Free World which he intends to honor; and if this means getting stuck in a Pentagon elevator, he will do it, because he believes it is the right thing to do."

During the 12 minutes that the President was stuck in the elevator, Lou Harris took a poll with the following results:

Sixty-seven per cent said they thought the President was doing a good job running the Pentagon elevators, 20 per cent thought someone else could do a better job and 13 per cent said they had "no opinion."

When asked if the President should get out of the elevator, 35 per cent said he should get out, 34 per cent said he should stay in and 31 per cent said they didn't think it would make any difference.

During the wait, the President turned to Secretary McNamara and said: "Well, Bob, what the h— happened now?"

And Secretary McNamara is said to have replied in a halting voice full of emotion: "Mr. President, I cannot find words to express what lies in my heart today. I think I had better respond on another occasion."

VICTOR RIESEL

A New Campaign Coalition

WASHINGTON — A political team as new as the latest "underground movie" is trotting into the field for Lyndon Johnson. It's the replacement for the labor-liberal-intellectual coalition which smashed when the Americans for Democratic Action endorsed Sen. Eugene McCarthy for president.

Victor Riesel

Spring practice began, as it should in this league, at a cocktail party thrown by a once-upon-a-time semipro shortstop, the needle trades president Lou Stulberg, for the new star, John P. Roche.

The latter, a former Brandeis University professor, is a good-humored and ruffles not a whit if you call him Lyndon Johnson's intellectual-in-residence at the White House.

Thus he is account executive in charge of soothing and countering the rapier wits of the world of universities, art and other sundry cultures. So he is busy. But on Tuesday, February, 20, he took a day off and flew to the Bal Harbour, Fla., meeting of the AFL-CIO Executive Council, to meet the world of labor.

Prof. Roche, at whose effigy today's anti-Johnson liberals sling their deadliest darts, went as the guest of Lou Stulberg, who comparatively recently took the presidency of the politically powerful International Ladies Garment Workers' Union — maker of U.S. presidents over the recent decades.

AS SUCH, Mr. Stulberg is adroit technically and politically with pins and needles. Stulberg, whose union is the biggest in make-or-break New York state, hosted the cocktail reception at the Hotel Americana for Professor Roche who, until that Tuesday night, had not met many of the meat and potatoes labor leaders. But that evening he was surrounded by the 35 or 40 labor chiefs who are the movement's political activists — including George Meany himself.

This was Prof. Roche's first such visit, glass-clinking, and tete-a-tete with the directors of the Committee On Political Education (COPE) and the intrastructure of labor's national machine so vital to President Johnson's reelection campaign.

There was nothing subtle in the carmaraderie between John Roche, former chairman of the Americans for Democratic Action, and Lou Stulberg, whose garment union had been the primary philosophical and financial force behind the 1947 launching of ADA.

But that was over 20 years ago when, during the cold war, some unionists and Hubert H. Humphrey had gathered to organize a liberal anti-Communist front. Today they are splintered.

Prof. Roche and Stulberg, along with economist Leon Keyserling and union chiefs I. W. Abel (of Steel) and Joe Beirne (of Communications) have resigned — and are seeking a new coalition.

THEY HAVEN'T the slightest intention of leaving the libaral-labor-intellectual field to the anti-Johnson forces. They may not be able to retake the field before the presidential campaign heats up, but they'll try.

There's a new coalition in the making as soon as the three labor leaders — representing over two million articulate unionists — can get together.

These men do not believe the whirlwindish ADA will back Lyndon Johnson even if Sen. McCarthy finally does, in a dramatic gesture at the August Democratic national convention. These labor leaders believe that the ADA simply will go neutral or for a respectable peace candidate even if McCarthy stays on as a loyal party member.

They believe that the prime ADA objective is the defeat of Lyndon Johnson—even if the opposition is Richard Nixon, Ronald Reagan, or George Romney.

Of course, say some of these labor leaders, there is always the danger of Gov. Nelson Rockefeller. High in the political sky, "Rocky" is beginning to look more like a dove than a hawk these days, they add. So, should the Republican nomination go to Nelson Rockefeller, there always is a good chance that the ADA may hop aboard his bandwagon.

Gov. Rockefeller's man was working the council ranks — and other powerful labor chiefs — during the Roche visit. Mr. Rockefeller's agent had many of them to lunch or dinner reminding them in great detail of the governor's pro-labor attitude during the garbage crisis.

AND SUCH INFLUENTIAL men as the construction trades union leader Peter Brennan (who some day will lead the national combination of 18 building unions) listened for hours.

So the Stulbergs, the Abels, the Beirnes and, of course, the President's intellectual emissary are quite eager to launch a countervailing liberal-labor coalition against the ADA and other "defectors."

There is far more here than the desire to neutralize the pro-McCarthy move by ADA. There is the logical feeling that without such a labor-liberal-intellectual pro-Johnson coalition, the President just cannot carry New York State. And without that, he cannot carry the nation.

So the new team which gathered that night of the cocktail party may become the most historic combination since Tinker to Evers to Chance.

DAVID LAWRENCE

Point Missed

The report of the President's Commission on Civil Disorder contains 200,000 words, but not a single sentence in it recommends the arrest and imprisonment of the persons who incited violence and the riots of 1967.

This is not surprising. Out of the 11-member commission, six hold elected office, one is running for the United States Senate this year, one is the leader of a big labor union, and one is the executive director of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Politicians and others who are responsive to the Negro vote in big cities are so involved in racial controversies they are not likely to take impartial positions on law enforcement. This could be expected only from a panel consisting solely of judges or former members of the judiciary.

WHILE THE commission said it found no evidence that "all or any of the disorders, or the incidents that led to them, were planned or directed by any organization or group, international, national or local," the next paragraph was seemingly contradictory:

"Militant organizations, local and national, and individual agitators, who repeatedly forecast and called for violence, were active in the spring and summer of 1967. We believe that they sought to encourage violence and that they helped to create an atmosphere that contributed to the outbreak of disorder."

Then why weren't they prosecuted? This question arises again and again, as details of the incidents and riots are portrayed in the commission's report.

Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., is enthusiastic about the commission's document. He says the recommendations confirm what he has been saying all along — namely, that the United States faces "chaos and disintegration" if something isn't done to bring the Negro into the mainstream of American social and economic life.

The commission advocates expenditure of billions of dollars in programs to improve community life and the economic position of the underprivileged, but it blames the terrorism and the encouragement to violence on the white people of America:

"A climate that tends toward approval and encouragement of violence as a form of protest has been created by white terrorism directed against nonviolent protest; by the open defiance of law and federal authority by state and local officials resisting desegregation; and by some protest groups engaging in civil disobedience who turn their backs on nonviolence, go beyond the constitutionally protected rights of petition and free assembly, and resort to violence to attempts to compel alteration of laws and policies with which they disagree."

In the main, the report attempts to show why Negroes have risen up in protest in many cities, and declares:

"The civil disorders of 1967 involved Negroes acting against local symbol of white American society, authority and property in Negro neighborhoods — rather than against white persons."

Then the commission goes on to say: "white racism is essentially responsible for the explosive mixture which has been accumulating in our cities since the end of World War II."

It adds: "To some Negroes, police have come to symbolize white power, white racism and white repression."

Nobody doubts that "racism" exists in America. But who has been intensifying it and inflaming both sides in the last five years? This is the central fact avoided entirely by the commission.

IT FAILS to note that speakers for militant Negro organizations have preached violence and have threatened more and more riots unless Congress grants the demands of a mobocracy.

Every public issue can be debated in an orderly manner. There are plenty of auditoriums, convention halls and stadiums where people can gather and hear addresses and debates on controversial questions.

But when the streets are used for provocative "demonstrations," it means that many persons either join in or resent manifestations of rebellion and disregard for public order.

The commission's report is not going to help produce that spirit of reconciliation and friendly association between the races which alone can, in the long run, bring peace inside America.

Legislative Issues Sidestepped

For all practical purposes, the reconvened session of the Ohio General Assembly has closed shop. A skeleton session will return to the statehouse March 20 to make the end official by adjourning sine die (subject to the call of the governor).

Much has been left undone by legislators.

Two important issues sidestepped by the General Assembly are public employe disputes and revision of the state's tax structure.

There was hope action would be taken in these fields because they involve pressing problems of concern to all Ohioans.

Senate Bill 30, a teacher and school employes negotiation bill, will be left to die in the House Rules Committee. Senate Bill 485, a measure dealing with public employe bargaining recognition, will die in the Senate Rules Committee.

Direct action on the bargaining issue was avoided when the Senate approved a resolution requesting the Legislative Service Commission to study the problem for the next 10 months and report to the legislature next year.

The need for immediate legislation on this question was obvious. Postponing the decision for 10 months isn't going to make it any easier.

In the other case, there already has been a study of Ohio's tax structure by a select group appointed last August. The committee studied the matter all last autumn including proposals to drop personal property taxes and reduce real estate taxes — but final recommendations never came.

Adding to the problem is the gnawing realization the General Assembly may dodge these and other major areas of unfinished legislative business when it reconvenes next year. There is no assurance the issues won't be side-tracked for more study, more deliberation.

Constitutents would do well to buttonhole their legislators during the next 10 months, ask for an explanation of his position on the issues, tell him their thoughts and demand prompt legislative action when the session begins next January.

The stalling tactics have gone on too long.

Who's Who, And Who's Not

History students—and observers of the political circus—are intrigued by a report coming out of New York over the weekend that Rep. Michael Kirwan (D) of Youngstown is on a list of 1,000 prominent Americans since the Colonial era.

The Galo Research Co. has reportedly requested a photograph of Mike Kirwan to be used in a picture series on the most illustrious American since the days of the founding fathers.

Kirwan, a member of Congress since 1937, has achieved a number of successes as a legislator.

But the questions which historians find themselves asking are what do "prominent" and "illustrious" mean?

Mathematically, Kirwan doesn't stand a chance of fitting into the first 1,000 men and women of national stature who have made the most outstanding contributions to the whole of America.

EVEN IN TERMS of national prominence, the 36 Presidents and the notable men in their cabinets, in the Supreme Court, in the Congress during their administrations will account certainly for 200 or more. Add the names of top leaders in medicine, art, theater, literature, business, industry, labor, journalism, education, religion, science, law, finance, military, athletics, engineering and political parties for every three year period over the past 181 years, and one has a list of over 1,200.

That Kirwan wields extensive influence over expenditure of money cannot be denied. As ranking member of the House Appropriations Committee and as chairman of the Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee, he is able to help shape policies and change votes—as he has done in continuing efforts to have the U.S. build an Ohio River-Lake Erie canal.

Political scientists admire Mike for his power plays, his electioneering and his maneuverings. Historians recognize his role in the ever-changing structure of American representative government. The Mahoning Valley sees him as the white knight symbol of economic development; Pennsylvania judges him as a villain who would bring financial ruin.

KIRWAN IS "prominent" in many circles, but he is still in the fourth echelon of thousands of Americans in the National eye, past, and second echelon, present.

Should "Kirwan's Ditch" ever be dug, however, his name would become much more familiar to the American public, taxpayers in particular. . .

We would add our vote for Mike only if he could bring about a reform of the pork-barrel practices which has been an extravagant and unsavory aspect of the U.S. Congress since the 19th Century.

Pitching In

Large city or small, times of trouble rarely fail to inspire acts of fellowship and generosity to those in need, to the men and women involved in meeting the trouble headon.

Sunday's nearly disastrous fire in East Liverpool not only brought instant help from firemen, police and organized volunteer agencies, it motivated hundreds of acts of kindness, solicitude and sacrifice.

Casual onlookers helped to move equipment, carry cans of gasoline, direct traffic and assist in other ways.

Kenny Rogers, Broadway service station operator, towed parked cars out of the fire zone, re-started three stalled pumpers and provided gasoline for many trucks—without charge.

John Rowley, another service station operator, closed his station at the foot of St. Clair to permit the driveways to be used for traffic between St. Clair and Lincoln and Dresden.

Mario's Chicken House contributed chicken and coffee for firemen, and the New York Restaurant on the Diamond kept men on duty supplied with coffee.

Others who contributed were Cassidy's Bakery and Restaurant of Wellsville, the Hot Dog Shoppe, Wellsville fire department auxiliary and Golden Star Dairyland, according to Red Cross officials.

These people and many more offered and gave without expecting return or recognition. This was part of being a friend, a citizen; this was part of service to others who were serving the whole city.

U.S. Refuses Visa To Rhodesia Premier

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department said today it has refused a visa to Premier Ian Smith of Rhodesia, who seized independence from Great Britain in November 1965.

State Department press officer Carl Bartch said that while the United States has issued visas to Rhodesians with valid British passports, Smith apparently doesn't have one.

"So since we don't recognize the Smith regime we don't consider a passport issued by that regime to be a '[illegible]' travel document," Bartch said.

U.S. Refuses Visa To Rhodesia Premier

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department said today it has refused a visa to Premier Ian Smith of Rhodesia, who seized independence from Great Britain in November 1965.

State Department press officer Carl Bartch said that while the United States has issued visas to Rhodesians with valid British passports, Smith apparently doesn't have one.

"So since we don't recognize the Smith regime we don't consider a passport issued by that regime to be a valid travel document," Bartch said.

Local Youth Will Face City Entry Charge

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today set a preliminary hearing Thursday at 9 a. m. for a 19-year-old Pleasant Heights youth charged with burglary of a home last Wednesday night in which old coins, a television set and two rings were taken.

James F. Cramer of 876 Baxter St. was arraigned on an affidavit signed by Det. Capt. Kenneth H. Mooney and Det. William A. Devon, alleging that he broke into the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. Ray Connell on Oakwood Ave.

Acting on a tip, officers obtained a search warrant in Municipal Court Thursday and said they recovered most of the property taken from the Connell home. However, Cramer was not at the home and could not be located immediately. He was taken into custody Monday on Lisbon St. by Patrolman Karl W. Samples, officers said.

Police said they recovered a portable television set, an 1896 uncirculated silver dollar, three other silver dollars, 16 Indian head pennies, an 1819 half dollar and a signet ring. A Masonic ring also included in the loot could not be found and Cramer denied taking it, officers said.

Det. Capt. Mooney said he received information the day following the burglary that named Cramer as the suspect. The home was kept under surveillance until the search warrant could be obtained. The premises then were searched by Mooney, Devon, Capt. Charles E. (Bill) Tice and Patrolman K. J. Montgomery.

The intruder also removed a basketful of groceries, which was found abandoned behind the Connell home.

Since the charge is a felony, the court continued the preliminary hearing to allow Cramer to obtain counsel. His appearance bond was set at $1,000.

Street Work Plan Outlined

NEW CUMBERLAND — Mayor Arthur Watson announced during Monday night's Council meeting that the State Road Commission has promised assistance with the grading of Commerce St.

The mayor said he had conferred with Walter Batalo, road commission aide.

Watson told Council he wrote to Atty. Gerald C. Donald Robertson concerning the school zone signs, but has not received a reply.

Chief of Police William Webster reported that he and Carl Kirkland, conservation officer for Brooke and Hancock Counties, have taken care of the pigeon problem by shooting more than 100 of the birds. They plan to continue the program.

George Weigel gave the street committee report.

Dean Chamberlain of the audit committee told council the budget should be ready by the next Council meeting.

No report was given by the water - sewage committee, fire committee or light committee.

The mayor reported an organizational meeting for the recreation committee was held recently to discuss placing a facility at the foot of Station Hill.

It will be entered as a project in the West Virginia "Com-Bet" contest.

The Commerce St. repair also will be entered when the project is completed. The contest is judged on the initiative and size of the improvement. First prize is $1,000.

In ward reports, Robert Mills asked Council what had been done to the Mercer property. Chief Webster said he is attempting to receive permission from the family to burn the house.

Chamberlain complained of the streets in Eden Valley.

Weigel told Council about an open cesspool that runs on to Chestnut St. and of the children in the same area starting small fires.

He also announced plans for the new park.

John Wittpenn, sewage plant supervisor, reported new pumps will be installed today. The mayor also asked to have the wet well pumped.

The next regular meeting will be April 1.

Johnson Asks Lid Placed On Drug Prices

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has called for a clampdown on drug prices, reducing the infant mortality rate and making available birth-control devices or drugs to three million American women.

The president told Congress Monday his new health proposals would cost $15.6 billion, an increase of about $1.6 billion over the program for the current fiscal year.

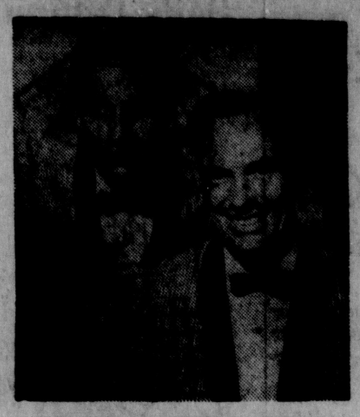

Johnson requested authority to limit government payments for drugs to what he termed a reasonable cost. These purchases are principally for the medicare and medicaid programs and welfare operations.

Recent Senate hearings have focused on substantial differences in the prices charged by various firms for the same drug. Prices are generally cheaper for drugs sold under their chemical or generic names, rather than brand names.

Sources said Johnson's proposal may indicate the administration is confident that current federal studies will conclude that generic drugs perform as well as are as safe as brand names.

Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., who guided the bill boosting Social Security benefits through enactment last year, said Johnson's request "will take us a long stride in the direction of reducing exorbitant prices for drugs."

Johnson said the infant-mortality rate of 22.1 deaths per 1,000 children under the age of one is "inexcusably high." He said this country ranks 15th among nations in infant mortality when it should lead the world "in saving its young."

Land Purchased For Expansion Of Beaver Campus

Trustees of the Pennsylvania State University have purchased a tract of approximately 36 acres adjoining the Beaver Campus of the university at Monaca and have approved plans for construction of two buildings.

The tract, located to the south of the 48-acre campus, was purchased from Ralph W. and Margaret G. Hartenbach. The university has held an option on the land since October.

Also approved by the trustees were final plans for a food service building and a residence hall for 200 students.

According to Dr. Joseph P. Giusti, campus director, it is expected that construction of the residence hall and the food service building will begin in early spring, with completion scheduled for the summer of 1969.

The food service building will be capable of serving 500 students and will include a dining room to seat 300, with adjoining kitchen and food preparation and storage areas.

The residence hall will be a three-story brick structure housing 208 students, with space for two resident counselors in addition to a lounge, activity rooms, project room and laundry facilities.

Three other buildings on the 82-acre campus, under construction since 1966, are nearing completion. They are a large engineering and science building, a library and a general classroom building.

Dunn was cited for "failure to maintain an assured clear distance" after his auto, traveling south, struck the rear of a truck operated by Norman W. Peters, 44, of East Palestine.

Dunn said he would make his own arrangements for medical treatment.

Health Council Rejects Request For Pay Boosts

By PAUL YOUNG

LISBON — The Columbiana County Health Advisory Council Monday night elected two men to the County Board of Health and rejected a request for $3,000 for health department raises in 1968.

Newcomers on the five-member board are Eldon Whinery, Hanover Township farmer, and Miles Light of Williamsport, Madison township, a biology teacher in East Liverpool schools.

OTHER nominees were Charles Bibbee of St. Clair Township, sexton at Columbiana County Memorial Park, and Mrs. Leona Archibald of West Township, a registered nurse appointed to the board of health last April after Francis Bezdek of Elkrun Township resigned.

Whinery was elected for a five - year term, succeeding Fred Johnson of Summitville, who is board president. Light succeeds Mrs. Archibald and will complete the four years remaining on Bezdek's term.

Carryover members of the board are Dr. Paul H. Beaver, Leetonia physician who is vice president; Glen Hawkins, Elkrun township plumber, and Frank J. Murray, Center, township farmer.

The advisory council is comprised of the chairmen of the boards of trustees of the 18 townships and the mayors of the nine villages. Council meets the first Monday in March to elect a member or members to the board of health, receive the board's annual report and deal with any matters relative to the General Health District — all parts of the county except the four cities.

TWENTY - TWO of the 27 subdivisions were represented. No one attended from Salineville, Hanoverton and Leetonia villages or Yellow Creak and Middleton townships.

Don Sanor of Butler Township, council chairman, presided. He and Richard Sanford of Liverpool Township, elected last night to serve as secretary for the meeting, were re-elected for the 1969 session. Ed Wilhelm of Salem Township was elected vice president.

The meeting proceeded routinely until Dr. M. K. Singer, county health commissioner, presented a request for the addition of $3,000 to the budget for a general raise for employes.

He said he had asked the county budget commission for the extra amount and was advised it could be added if Council approved the additional assessments from taxes of the subdivisions.

Dr. Singer said the department could use another sanitarian because of the work load, pointing out the sanitarian is getting $1,000 less than the job paid 10 years ago, and "no master plumber is going to work for $5,800 a year."

Carl M. Lipp of Unity Township rose to ask two questions — "Why our shots fro the schools have been cut?" and "Whether Dr. Singer is a full-time health commissioner since he is running two jobs?" Dr. Singer is also medical director of the County Tuberculosis Clinic. He receives $13,500 annually as health commissioner and $7,700 as clinic director.

Lipp said he drives bus for the Springfield Local District in Mahoning County and knows the children there receive free immunizations from hte County Health Department, which also gives physical examinations to bus drivers and football players.

"I think our taxpayers in this county are entitled to these shots — why don't we have this service?" Lipp asked. He said the local health department will not give immunizations unless the parents or guardians sign a paper stating they do not have the money.

Dr. Singer said when he came here the ((the TB clinic) had a man who spent about 20 minutes here one day a week and got paid $7,700 per year. "I was doing his work and he was drawing the pay," the doctor said.

He said the attorney general has held that the positions of health commissioner and TB clinic medical director are compatible. "I am not cheating this department out of anything — I'm usually here by 6:30 every morning," he declared.

He said health departments "aren't meant to practice medicine." "I am immunizing kids now that need it — those from six months up — before they get to school". He said the preschool immunization clinics were discontinued several years ago "because the schools wouldn't cooperate."

He said parents wishing immunizations for their children may come to the Health Department at the Courthouse from 8:30 to 11:30 a. m. Tuesdays and Thursdays throughout the year. The doctor asid he has no facilities for pre - employment physical examinations for bus drivers.

Eyler Hinchliffe of Center Township broke up the one debate by touching off another. He said he heard the Health Department is going to close the Center Township - Lisbon dump and he wa'ed ot know, when that happens, who is going to police the roads to keep peo'le from tossing garbage along the road.

Sanitarian Harry Stockdale said the requirements are being imposed by the Ohio Department of Health and he won't know the answers until he receives the regulations from the legis'ature. Stockdale said communities which continue to ocrate sub-standard dumps wi'l be liable to fines of up to $100 a day.

Hinchliffe and Stockdale differed as to the quality of Center's dump. The trustee said it is as nice and well - kept a dump as there is in the county. Stockdale said it is little more than a pile of garbage.

Hinchliffe answered, "The one you say is all right, I can smell a mile away." Hinchliffe left before the vote on the $3,000.

During distribution of the ballots, Dr. Singer said the money would be "distributed proportionately among the employes—I am not in on this."

Council voted 15-to-7 against the proposal. "A kick in the teeth," the doctor said as he and Stockdale left the room.

Mayor Dale Kampfer of Columbiana proposed that Council vote on approving a $2,000 increase and the representatives agreed. The first vote was 11-11 and the second 12-10 against.

Some members suggested that council should meet three or four times a year to keep up to date on Health Department affairs. The meeting adjourned without any plans for another.

90-Day Term Suspended In Check Count

A 21-year-old East Liverpool woman accused of forging a name on a stolen check Feb. 21 was given a 90-day suspended County Jail term and placed on probation when she appeared this morning before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff.

Miss Diana Auberta Branson of Elm St. was accused of forging the name of Birdie Hawkenberry of 314½ Market St. on a check which the owner said was stolen from her purse. Officers said a 15-year-old boy, who also was arrested, presented the $50 check for payment at a bank.

Miss Branson was named in an affidavit signed by Det. Capt. Kenneth H. Mooney. She first appeared in court Feb. 26, when she was granted a continuance to seek counsel. The charge alleged she "forged and counterfeited" the owner's name on the check "with intent to defraud."

In suspending the jail sentence, the judge ordered Miss Branson to report once weekly to Capt. Mooney. The judge said he could see no point in requiring the young woman to serve time in jail and added that she obviously could not pay a fine, since she is unemployed.

The court ordered her to "obey all laws of Ohio and the City of East Liverpool; refrain from all drinking and attempt immediately to secure employment." Miss Branson was represented by Joseph Baronzzi, Lisbon attorney.

Judge Hits Bid To Bar Press At Pretrial Hearing

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP) — A judge has thrown out a move to keep reporters out of a pretrial hearing under the American Bar Association's Reardon report.

"The Reardon report isn't law," U.S. Dist. Court Senior Judge Caleb M. Wright, said Monday.

A lawyer for one of four men charged with violating laws against shipping uninspected meat across state lines had sought to stop alleged statements made by the defendants from going to the jury.

He asked Wright to bar the press under the terms of the report, which would sharply limit the release of pretrial information by judges, lawyers and policemen and would make newspapers subject to contempt action for printing certain information.

Wright said: "We've had no trouble with the reporting by our press. The press has been very cooperative."

Member Of Old Robbery Gang In Jail For Theft

BALLINGER, Tex. (AP) — Willie Newton, 76, a gray-haired member of an old bank-and-train robbery gang that operated in the 1920's, is in jail in this west Texas town charged with burglary.

Sheriff Donald L. Atkins identified the man Monday night as one of the old Newton gang that robbed a mail train at Rondout, Ill., on June 12, 1924.

Newton and Robert C. Talley, 47, were charged with burglary of the First National Bank of nearby Rowena last Thursday night. No bond has been allowed for Newton, but Talley remains jailed in lieu of $25,000 bond.

Atkins said he was looking for Willis Newton, the jailed man's twin brother and also a member of the gang that preyed on banks and mail trains when the 20th century was young. He said a third man escaped in a automobile.

We introduced it several weeks ago.

Arm extended downward, elbow slightly bent, palm of hand parallel to the ground.

It's our special sign, inspired by the fact that while nearly everything else has gone up in price since 1959, local telephone rates have stayed the same. And just last November, long distance rates were reduced for the seventh time since 1959.

That makes your telephone a bigger bargain than ever. Because while local rates haven't gone up, the quality of your service has. You can call more people. You can call them faster. You can dial long distance direct. In fact, your service continues to improve and expand in many ways.

Of course, pushing against the price trend hasn't been easy. And every year it seems to get tougher. But we're in there trying.

We're glad to see that other people seem to agree with us that prices should be kept down. Maybe that's why we keep seeing our "low" sign so much these days.

College Students' Attitudes Discussed

Is Business Getting The Business?

Perplexity about young people — their manners, morals and motives — was expressed often in a recent Associated Press Managing Editors Association study of what readers are talking and worrying about. This article focuses on the attitude of collegians toward corporate careers.

By GEORGE TAYLOR
AP Business Writer

A loud but apparently small group of undergraduates says yes.

Some college career counselors and recruiters say no, bridling at the suggestion that corporate life is losing its appeal. Other educators and businessmen are working to combat any antibusiness feeling although generally there is doubt that it is a serious revolt.

THESE ARE the conclusions from an Associated Press survey at major colleges and universities in different parts of the country.

Criticism of business by students plays on two overriding themes: (1) going into a corporation means losing your individuality and (2) big business does not do enough to solve the country's social and economic problems.

The subject is a favorite for dormitory and coffee shop bull sessions. And the debate quickens as colleges across the country start welcoming corporate recruiters wooing their June graduates.

Here are some typical antibusiness sentiments.

"This generation has to work for something other than the dollar," said Lawrence Susskind, 21, a senior at Columbia in New York City.

—:—

SAID A junior at the University of Texas in Austin who asked anonymity, "Business has an image of an unstimulating life. The only reason you would go into it is for money and if you wanted to get ahead you would have to play interoffice politics."

"I'd like to participate in transforming American society completely and radically—making it more egalitarian and more democratic," said Douglas P. Seaton, 21, a Princeton history junior from Cleveland. "I'll probably wind up organizing poor whites or Negroes in ghettoes for political action."

Peter J. Kaminsky, 21, of West Orange, N.J., also at Princeton, said "I would only go into business if I had despaired of all social progress. If I do what I want, I'll be poverty stricken. I'd like to be a rich revolutionary."

—:—

SAID another student, I don't believe all this talk about how you can express your social concern through business because the people expressing social concern won't move into important positions. He'll be an outcast, like the company Negro. A showcase with no influence."

College officials and corporation recruiters are becoming more conscious of the criticism.

Some deny that antibusiness feeling is on a scale that should cause concern.

Dr. C.O. Strother, university relations director for Union Carbide Corp., which hires 1,000 graduates a year, said, "What antibusiness feeling? I believe it's a pure fabrication."

John Moritz, placement director at Villanova University in Pennsylvania, said, "The ambition of students today is no different than it was five years ago, or even 10 years ago— and a very big number will go into business."

E. H. Cummings, placement director at Lafayette College in Easton, Pa., thinks there is "some" antibusiness feeling among collegians "but it's by no means greater. It's just more noisy and newsworthy."

CHANCELLOR W. Clarke Wescoe of the University of Kansas said, "We've never experienced this kind of antibusiness feeling here. We have more students signing up for interviews for business careers than ever in our history."

Paul V. Grambsch, dean of the University of Minnesota's School of Business Administration, said that the notion that students are turning against business careers is open to question.

"There are more alternatives for students today, more choice for them to make. They don't accept the idea that a business career is what they must be interested in. The current generation is more questioning about what to do with their lives."

BUSINESSMEN an recruiters who regard the antibusiness noises with some concern appear to be going on the offensive.

Robert W. Galvin, the 44-year-old chairman of Motorola, Inc., has been carrying on printed debates with students in 29 campus newspapers for two years.

The students assail corporate jobs as "dullsville" and the ingredients of corporate life.

In calm and measured words, Galvin urges them to learn more about business and reassures them that the corporate life is filled with challenges. "I think that in some areas business has projected itself too weakly," Galvin said.

Dr. Raymon F. Rolfe, corporate recruiting director for Dow Chemical Co., which has been the target of violent anti-Vietnam protests because it makes napalm, said, "You've got to be gutty with them (students). You have to be candid and honest. . .You can't just dangle a buck in front of them."

INDUSTRIES are stepping up their recruiting efforts at the Berkeley campus of the University of California, which has been out front in the ranks of student protests. In 1967, more than 800 corporate prospect - hunters interviewed on campus, compared with 550 the previous year.

In a survey of the current freshman class at Berkeley, 34 per cent of the 1,700 who responded from the 4,388-member classs had fathers in business. Only 3.4 per cent said they had any desire to follow their fathers' footsteps.

John Fox, director of the office of graduate and career plans at Harvard, thinks the complaints of some students that business generally doesn't do enough for society are valid.

"Graduates here feel their talents are best applied in government or in professional training or in volunteer work, like VISTA or the Peace Corps," Fox said.

DOW'S ROLFE thinks that a lot of the antibusiness sentiment comes from liberal arts students and those in the social sciences who are not being courted with the fervor reserved for technical students.

As might be expected, the survey found some students ready to speak out for business careers.

Edwin M. Sykes III, 21, a Princeton history senior from San Antonio, said, "It's foolish to think you can reform capitalism from the university."

Steve Waters, 21, of West Hartford Conn., a Harvard student, said, "Business is a conduit to the establishment where the monetary remuneration and the power attained can be of great use to run for office and be elected to it."

Statistics are of little help in trying to gauge the depth of antibusiness sentiment.

As one college official put it, "If a company needs 150 men for its junior executive training program, it recruits on campuses and gets its 150 men. But who's to say if it got the best or the 150 it would have gotten if most seniors were aching to get into corporations?"

—:—

U.S. OFFICE of Education figures show enrollment in business schools is holding its own. Bachelor, master's and doctorate degrees in busines or commerce accounted for 11 per cent of the 490,600 degrees granted in the United States in the school year that ended in June, 1961.

In 1966, the last year for which government figures are available, the number of degrees had risen to 683,100. The business and commerce share was still 11 per cent.

What's behind the antipathy of some collegians to corporate careers?

"It's the generation gap, youth vs. age, the have-nots vs. the haves," said Edward D. McDouglas, director of managrial and professional development for the Equitable Life Assurance Society.

"THE STUDENTS want the assets of their parents but they're unwilling to put in time on the treadmill that will get them their share of the pie.

"And they're smart enough to know they're a needed commodity. In a sense, it's generational blackmail. They know others are worried and they're probably enjoying being the center of attention. It's the spoiled child sort of thing."

Dr. Jerome G. Beame, a New York management psychology consultant, said, "You're dealing with a generation of people who have nothing positive to stand for and it's easier to be positively against.

"Business is becoming far too compartmentalized. There's not enough room for expressions of individuality. Jobs have to be identified in terms of functions and not boxes on an organizational chart. The kids are rebelling against it."

Ohio Appeals In Road Fight

LISBON — P. E. Masheter, Ohio director of highways, has filed in Columbiana County Common Pleas Court an appeal from the county commissioners' refusal to vacate a township road needed for Route 11 (the Lake Erie-to-Ohio River Freeway).

Commissioners refused the requested vacation of Township Rd. 880 Jan. 29 after a public hearing in the Courthouse. The road, also known as Sand Bank Rd. and Cherry Fork Rd., runs west from Route 344 at Valley Golf Club west of Coumbiana and connects with north-south Beeson Mill Rd., which runs between Route 14 - Alternate and Route 344.

Opponents of the vacation say the rural road is used as a shortcut by workmen traveling between the Salem and Columbiana areas. They want the state to build a bridge to carry Route 11 over 880, but the state says travel on 880 does not justify the added expense of a bridge — approximately $315,000.

The director asks that the county commissioners file a copy of the minutes of the proceedings held Jan. 29 and, further, that the court set this down for hearing at the earliest possible time.

Dividend Declared

FAIRMONT, W. Va. — The Board of Directors of Allegheny Power System, Inc., has declared a quarterly dividend of 30 cents a share on the common stock. Unity Urged To Boost Aid For Services

EAST PALESTINE — A lengthy discussion was held by Council and Unity Township trustees Monday night on the need for emergency ambulance service in the township.

City authorities suggested to the Unity officers the township bear a proportionate cost of the expense of the service since many calls originate in that area.

Cecil Conkle and Robert Swearingen, trustees, explained the township has limited funds for such service, but offered $1,500 as the township's share for both ambulance and fire protection.

Mayor Robert Harding termed the offer inadequate and said the city already had made 15 calls in the township at a cost of $500 so far this year.

Harding urged a pledge of financial suport from the trustees over $1,500.

It was agreed to have a further study of the matter, with the trustees to report in two weeks.

YOU, THERE!

Good.

Nowadays, people really should take their hot water for granted. And the millions who rely on dependable, economical Gas water heaters do. That's because a modern, family-rated Gas water heater delivers all the hot water a modern family needs. And it does it at a fraction of the cost of heating water electrically.

If all you want from a water heater is hot water —as much as you need, when you need it, and for the least amount of money—insist on a Gas water heater . . . and then forget it.

College Students' Attitudes Discussed

Is Business Getting The Business?

Perplexity about young people — their manners, morals and motives — was expressed often in a recent Associated Press Managing Editors Association study of what readers are talking and worrying about. This article focuses on the attitude of collegians toward corporate careers.

By GEORGE TAYLOR
AP Business Writer

A loud but apparently small group of undergraduates says yes.

Some college career counselors and recruiters say no, bridling at the suggestion that corporate life is losing its appeal. Other educators and businessmen are working to combat any antibusiness feeling although generally there is doubt that it is a serious revolt.

THESE ARE the conclusions from an Associated Press survey at major colleges and universities in different parts of the country.

Criticism of business by students plays on two overriding themes: (1) going into a corporation means losing your individuality and (2) big business does not do enough to solve the country's social and economic problems.

The subject is a favorite for dormitory and coffee shop bull sessions. And the debate quickens as colleges across the country start welcoming corporate recruiters wooing their June graduates.

Here are some typical antibusiness sentiments.

"This generation has to work for something other than the dollar," said Lawrence Susskind, 21, a senior at Columbia in New York City.

—:—

SAID A junior at the University of Texas in Austin who asked anonymity, "Business has an image of an unstimulating life. The only reason you would go into it is for money and if you wanted to get ahead you would have to play interoffice politics."

"I'd like to participate in transforming American society completely and radically—making it more egalitarian and more democratic," said Douglas P. Seaton, 21, a Princeton history junior from Cleveland. "I'll probably wind up organizing poor whites or Negroes in ghettoes for political action."

Peter J. Kaminsky, 21, of West Orange, N.J., also at Princeton, said "I would only go into business if I had despaired of all social progress. If I do what I want, I'll be poverty stricken. I'd like to be a rich revolutionary."

—:—

SAID another student, I don't believe all this talk about how you can express your social concern through business because the people expressing social concern won't move into important positions. He'll be an outcast, like the company Negro. A showcase with no influence."

College officials and corporation recruiters are becoming more conscious of the criticism.

Some deny that antibusiness feeling is on a scale that should cause concern.

Dr. C.O. Strother, university relations director for Union Carbide Corp., which hires 1,000 graduates a year, said, "What antibusiness feeling? I believe it's a pure fabrication."

John Moritz, placement director at Villanova University in Pennsylvania, said, "The ambition of students today is no different than it was five years ago, or even 10 years ago— and a very big number will go into business."

E. H. Cummings, placement director at Lafayette College in Easton, Pa., thinks there is "some" antibusiness feeling among collegians "but it's by no means greater. It's just more noisy and newsworthy."

CHANCELLOR W. Clarke Wescoe of the University of Kansas said, "We've never experienced this kind of antibusiness feeling here. We have more students signing up for interviews for business careers than ever in our history."

Paul V. Grambsch, dean of the University of Minnesota's School of Business Administration, said that the notion that students are turning against business careers is open to question.

"There are more alternatives for students today, more choice for them to make. They don't accept the idea that a business career is what they must be interested in. The current generation is more questioning about what to do with their lives."

BUSINESSMEN an recruiters who regard the antibusiness noises with some concern appear to be going on the offensive.

Robert W. Galvin, the 44-year-old chairman of Motorola, Inc., has been carrying on printed debates with students in 29 campus newspapers for two years.

The students assail corporate jobs as "dullsville" and the ingredients of corporate life.

In calm and measured words, Galvin urges them to learn more about business and reassures them that the corporate life is filled with challenges. "I think that in some areas business has projected itself too weakly," Galvin said.

Dr. Raymon F. Rolfe, corporate recruiting director for Dow Chemical Co., which has been the target of violent anti-Vietnam protests because it makes napalm, said, "You've got to be gutty with them (students). You have to be candid and honest. . .You can't just dangle a buck in front of them."

INDUSTRIES are stepping up their recruiting efforts at the Berkeley campus of the University of California, which has been out front in the ranks of student protests. In 1967, more than 800 corporate prospect - hunters interviewed on campus, compared with 550 the previous year.

In a survey of the current freshman class at Berkeley, 34 per cent of the 1,700 who responded from the 4.388-member classs had fathers in business. Only 3.4 per cent said they had any desire to follow their fathers' footsteps.

John Fox, director of the office of graduate and career plans at Harvard, thinks the complaints of some students that business generally doesn't do enough for society are valid.

"Graduates here feel their talents are best applied in government or in professional training or in volunteer work, like VISTA or the Peace Corps," Fox said.

DOW'S ROLFE thinks that a lot of the antibusiness sentiment comes from liberal arts students and those in the social sciences who are not being courted with the fervor reserved for technical students.

As might be expected, the survey found some students ready to speak out for business careers.

Edwin M. Sykes III, 21, a Princeton history senior from San Antonio, said, "It's foolish to think you can reform capitalism from the university."

Steve Waters, 21, of West Hartford Conn., a Harvard student, said, "Business is a conduit to the establishment where the monetary remuneration and the power attained can be of great use to run for office and be elected to it."

Statistics are of little help in trying to gauge the depth of antibusiness sentiment.

As one college official put it, "If a company needs 150 men for its junior executive training program, it recruits on campuses and gets its 150 men. But who's to say if it got the best or the 150 it would have gotten if most seniors were aching to get into corporations?"

—:—

U.S. OFFICE of Education figures show enrollment in business schools is holding its own. Bachelor, master's and doctorate degrees in busines or commerce accounted for 11 per cent of the 490,600 degrees granted in the United States in the school year that ended in June, 1961.

In 1966, the last year for which government figures are available, the number of degrees had risen to 683,100. The business and commerce share was still 11 per cent.

What's behind the antipathy of some collegians to corporate careers?

"It's the generation gap, youth vs. age, the have-nots vs. the haves," said Edward D. McDouglas, director of managrial and professional development for the Equitable Life Assurance Society.

"THE STUDENTS want the assets of their parents but they're unwilling to put in time on the treadmill that will get them their share of the pie.

"And they're smart enough to know they're a needed commodity. In a sense, it's generational blackmail. They know others are worried and they're probably enjoying being the center of attention. It's the spoiled child sort of thing."

Dr. Jerome G. Beame, a New York management psychology consultant, said, "You're dealing with a generation of people who have nothing positive to stand for and it's easier to be positively against.

"Business is becoming far too compartmentalized. There's not enough room for expressions of individuality. Jobs have to be identified in terms of functions and not boxes on an organizational chart. The kids are rebelling against it."

Ohio Appeals In Road Fight

LISBON — P. E. Masheter, Ohio director of highways, has filed in Columbiana County Common Pleas Court an appeal from the county commissioners' refusal to vacate a township road needed for Route 11 (the Lake Erie-to-Ohio River Freeway).

Commissioners refused the requested vacation of Township Rd. 880 Jan. 29 after a public hearing in the Courthouse. The road, also known as Sand Bank Rd. and Cherry Fork Rd., runs west from Route 344 at Valley Golf Club west of Coumbiana and connects with north-south Beeson Mill Rd., which runs between Route 14 - Alternate and Route 344.

Opponents of the vacation say the rural road is used as a shortcut by workmen traveling between the Salem and Columbiana areas. They want the state to build a bridge to carry Route 11 over 880, but the state says travel on 880 does not justify the added expense of a bridge — approximately $315,000.

The director asks that the county commissioners file a copy of the minutes of the proceedings held Jan. 29 and, further, that the court set this down for hearing at the earliest possible time.

Dividend Declared

FAIRMONT, W. Va. — The Board of Directors of Allegheny Power System, Inc., has declared a quarterly dividend of 30 cents a share on the common stock. The dividend is payable March 29 to stockholders of record at the close of business March 8. The Monongahela Power Co. is one of three operating companies of the system.

Unity Urged To Boost Aid For Services

EAST PALESTINE — A lengthy discussion was held by Council and Unity Township trustees Monday night on the need for emergency ambulance service in the township.

City authorities suggested to the Unity officers the township bear a proportionate cost of the expense of the service since many calls originate in that area.

Cecil Conkle and Robert Swearingen, trustees, explained the township has limited funds for such service, but offered $1,500 as the township's share for both ambulance and fire protection.

Mayor Robert Harding termed the offer inadequate and said the city already had made 15 calls in the township at a cost of $500 so far this year.

Harding urged a pledge of financial suport from the trustees over $1,500.

It was agreed to have a further study of the matter, with the trustees to report in two weeks.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — John J. Gilligan of Cincinnati, candidate for the Democratic nomination for the U.S. Senate, announced today the appointment of Thomas L. Conlan, a Cincinnati attorney, as cochairman of his campaign.

Gilligan also said State Rep. William L. Mallory of Cincinnati will serve as his campaign field director. Gilligan will officially open his state headquarters here Wednesday, and then will begin a five-day tour with stops in Toledo, Cleveland, Akron, Youngstown and Lorain.

Novel Plans Appeal

COLUMBUS. Ohio (AP) — Gordon Novel planned an appeal today of a court decision ordering him held for New Orleans authorities in connection with an investigation there into the assassination of former president Kennedy.

Novel's attorney, Jerry Weiner, said an appeal would be filed in the Franklin County Court of Appeals.

Common Pleas Judge Henry Holden ordered Novel held Monday on a subpoena filed at New Orleans by Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison, who is conducting the Kennedy probe.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Am I crazy? If you think so, please tell me.

I'm going with a wonderful fellow who has an odd last name. Most people, when they see the name in print, pronounce it incorrectly and it comes out like a dirty word.

Would I be way out of line to ask my boy friend to change the spelling of his name so people would not become so embarrassed? I've seen folks stammer and get red in the face — afraid to even try it. Advise me, please. — A BLUSHER.

-:-

Dear Blusher: Has the boy asked you to marry him? Have you said yes? If so, I see nothing wrong in asking him to change the spelling of his name because it will be your name, too. If you don't plan to marry him, honey, keep quiet. The problem is a temporary one.

Sour Music

Dear Ann: I am a girl 22 years old who makes very good money doing housework for two families. One family has three children and I really work my head off over there on Mondays and Fridays.

The second family is actually a widower who lives alone and sends his laundry out. The work in his place is very light. I've been going there on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays.

I'll be honest, Ann, and tell you that I have spent some nights at the widower's place and he's been awfully good to me. Last week he suggested that I quit the other place and stay with him full time.

He's offered to pay for my voice lessons and says I could make a real name for myself if I practiced hard. I've always wanted to sing professionally and this might be my big chance. Please be practical, Ann. I need your advice. — SUGAR THROAT.

Dear Sugar: It sounds as if you've already made a name for yourself, but it wouldn't look good in a family newspaper.

What you have in mind is no short cut to fame or anything else, except trouble. If you would like a full-time housework job with a live-in arrangement, the want ads and the employment agencies can provide you with a long list to choose from. If you want voice lessons, pay for them yourself. It could be a whole lot cheaper in the long run.

Just A Reference

Dear Ann: Last week two friends (not close) mentioned rather casually that they had given my name as a credit reference. One of these acquaintances I encountered at a church auxiliary luncheon. The other I bumped into at the bus stop.

So far no one has called me nor have I received anything in the mail, but if I vouch for these people does it mean I must make good on their bills if they don't pay?

I'm a little annoyed to be put on the spot like this. It seems to me they should have first asked if I'd be willing to be used as a reference. Yes or no?—ON MY EAR.

-:-

Dear Ear: It's polite to ask, but most people don't. They just assume.

You are not responsible for making good the debts incurred by people for whom you have vouched — unless, that is, you sign something stating that you will do so.

Confidentially

To Bible Reader: I agree, the Bible contains as much advice which is just as sound and applicable as if it were written yesterday. Although it is too late for you to "go forth and multiply," the companionship you describe could be a fine thing. Wasn't it St. Paul who said, "It is not good for man to be alone"?

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Gregory, Spock Due Ballot Spots In Pennsylvania

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Comedian Dick Gregory and pacifist-baby doctor Benjamin Spock will be Presidential and vice presidential candidates on the November ballot in Pennsylvania, a spokesman for the proposed Peace & Freedom Party said today.

Melvin Metelits of Philadelphia, a coordinator of a campaign to petition for the ballot spots, said some 15,000 signatures have been collected and will be submitted to the state Elections Bureau by the deadline at 5 p.m. Wednesday.

Under a formula established by state law, a party needs 10,551 signatures to get candidates on the ballot this election year.

8 Charged In Slaying Of 2 Men In Cafe

CLEVELAND (AP) — Eight persons now have been charged with first-degree murder in the fatal shooting of two men last Wednesday in a cafe on the East Side.

City Prosecutor James Carnes issued four more warrants Monday — for Nelson Blackburn, 23, of Cleveland; George Rothrock, 24, of Euclid; Kathy Shaffer, 18, Willoughby, and Nellie Sideris, 22, address unknown.

Miss Shaffer and Donald A. Fraser, 21, also of Willoughby, were arrested in Kingman, Ariz., Saturday night.

Zone Change Gets Sanction From Council

Council gave approval Monday night to an ordinance approving a long-deliberated request for a change in zoning for a small tract of property in East End.

The change permits business use for the property, previously zoned for residential purposes. It affects property bounded by Long Alley, Pennsylvania Ave., Virginia Ave. and the east line of Lot 1772.

Most of the affected property is owned by the First Federal Savings & Loan Association, which asked the change last fall to permit sale of the ground for erection of a new service station.

The City Planning Commission, which held a hearing on the application last fall, gave its approval and then passed the question along to Council. Council conducted a public hearing on the question last night and passed the enabling legislation a short time later.

In the public hearing, Council agreed to approve the change in zoning with the understanding that the Planning Commission would study again several requests for rezoning of the entire stretch as far east as Boyce St.

Charles Papendry of Pennsylvania Ave. and Leo Ferello of 454 Virginia Ave., owners of business property in the area, told Council they believe the entire stretch should be zoned for business purposes. Ferello commented that Virginia Ave. sites are occupied by the American Vitrified Products Co., the Kerr Lumber Co. and the Wallover Oil Co., yet the area is zoned for residential use.

Solicitor J. Michael Kapp replied that Council could consider only the tract listed in the application for rezoning. But if the Planning Commission reconsiders and asks rezoning of the entire area, the action could be taken without the necessity for individual applications from each property owner, he said.

The hearing closed as Council approved a motion to refer Ferello's and Papendry's suggestions to the Planning Commission for study.

Riding Club Sets March 16 Dinner

A dinner dance will be held by the Gypsy Glen Riding Club March 16 at the Willows in Industry for club members, friends, past sponsors and officials of the horse shows.

Mrs. C. H. Waddell, general chairman said tickets may be obtained from her or from any club member. Reservations should be made by Thursday.

The club will meet at the Lion's Den on Gypsy Glen Rd. Thursday night, Robert Bassett, president, said.

Committees are making plans for the annual horse show at Brady's Run Park June 21-23, a benefit for the Beaver County Society for Crippled Children, sponsored by the Beaver Rotary Club.

Man's Death Blamed On Accidental Fall

CINCINNATI (AP) — Gail Curtis Warp, 32, Tiffin, whose body was found on a street in suburban Mount Adams early Monday, apparently died as a result of an accidental fall from the vehicle in which he was a passenger, police said.

Officers said a Council Bluffs, Iowa, man told them Warp was riding with him when he seemed to suffer a seizure and then fell out the door.

Four Actions Taken

Lisbon's Council Tackles Sudden Garbage Problem

1.—Engage in the control of garbage collection in the village.

2.—Hire a private contractor who will collect his own fees.

3.—Employ Donald Coleman of Lisbon, local service station operator, as the contractor subject to his acceptance of the contract.

4.—Direct the committee to meet again and draw up the specifications — maximum collection fee, a collection schedule and the bond to be required to the contractor.

On the committee are Councilmen Bill Mattix, William Robinson and Willis Coleman and Solicitor Joseph Baronzzi, who presented the proposals last night.

Coleman plans to buy the garbage collection business from Earl Mitchell, who discontinued the operation Saturday. However, Coleman said he does not want to buy Mitchell's packer truck until he knows the contract conditions.

Mayor Clyde B. Pike wanted Mitchell to continue for another week, but Mitchell said he is through. Unless Coleman decides to lease the truck until he sees the contract the community will offer, the only local collection will be by a Canton hauler who has about 50 customers. Mitchell said he served approximately 370 customers. Together, the two haulers have less than half the estimated 1,100 homes and business places in town. Mitchell said the others apparently haul their garbage to the dump themselves.

The Mitchell-Coleman transaction has been under way nearly a month. Coleman asked council for a franchise Feb. 12 and Mayor Pike referred the request to committee.

Israeli And Jordanian Clash Across River

TEL AVIV (AP) — Jordanian and Israeli troops clashed across the Jordan River today for the first time since Israeli jets and guns pounded the east bank nearly three weeks ago.

The firing coincided with Israeli Army reports that Arab saboteurs were still slipping across the river despite a warning from King Hussein of Jordan that they must stop using his kingdom as a jumpoff base.

The army said the Jordanians began shelling an Israeli patrol and Israeli forces returned the fire in a brief exchange. It did not mention any casualties.

400 Acres Of Timber, Brush Leveled By Fire

ATHENS, Ohio (AP) — Some 20 forest fires were brought under control in southeastern Ohio Monday but not before they destroyed 400 acres of timber and brush.

Forestry officials said fires are still a serious threat and burning permit laws have been put into effect.

Vern Honchell, district forester or the Athens area of the State Division of Forestry and Reclamation, said the amount of destruction Monday was unusual for this early in the year.

Zone Change Gets Sanction From Council

Council gave approval Monday night to an ordinance approving a long-deliberated request for a change in zoning for a small tract of property in East End.

The change permits business use for the property, previously zoned for residential purposes. It affects property bounded by Long Alley, Pennsylvania Ave., Virginia Ave. and the east line of Lot 1772.

Most of the affected property is owned by the First Federal Savings & Loan Association, which asked the change last fall to permit sale of the ground for erection of a new service station.

The City Planning Commission, which held a hearing on the application last fall, gave its approval and then passed the question along to Council. Council conducted a public hearing on the question last night and passed the enabling legislation a short time later.

In the public hearing, Council agreed to approve the change in zoning with the understanding that the Planning Commission would study again several requests for rezoning of the entire stretch as far east as Boyce St.

Charles Papendry of Pennsylvania Ave. and Leo Ferello of 454 Virginia Ave., owners of business property in the area, told Council they believe the entire stretch should be zoned for business purposes. Ferello commented that Virginia Ave. sites are occupied by the American Vitrified Products Co., the Kerr Lumber Co. and the Wallover Oil Co., yet the area is zoned for residential use.

Solicitor J. Michael Kapp replied that Council could consider only the tract listed in the application for rezoning. But if the Planning Commission reconsiders and asks rezoning of the entire area, the action could be taken without the necessity for individual applications from each property owner, he said.

The hearing closed as Council approved a motion to refer Ferello's and Papendry's suggestions to the Planning Commission for study.

Gregory, Spock Due Ballot Spots In Pennsylvania

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Comedian Dick Gregory and pacifist-baby doctor Benjamin Spock will be Presidential and vice presidential candidates on the November ballot in Pennsylvania, a spokesman for the proposed Peace & Freedom Party said today.

Melvin Metelits of Philadelphia, a coordinator of a campaign to petition for the ballot spots, said some 15,000 signatures have been collected and will be submitted to the state Elections Bureau by the deadline at 5 p.m. Wednesday.

Under a formula established by state law, a party needs 10,551 signatures to get candidates on the ballot this election year.

8 Charged In Slaying Of 2 Men In Cafe

CLEVELAND (AP) — Eight persons now have been charged with first-degree murder in the fatal shooting of two men last Wednesday in a cafe on the East Side.

City Prosecutor James Carnes issued four more warrants Monday — for Nelson Blackburn, 23, of Cleveland; George Rothrock, 24, of Euclid; Kathy Shaffer, 18, Willoughby, and Nellie Sideris, 22, address unknown.

Miss Shaffer and Donald A. Fraser, 21, also of Willoughby, were arrested in Kingman, Ariz., Saturday night.

Fraser was sought in the killing, along with Gary Leroy Montgomery, 24, of San Francisco; Timothy Adams, 24, Cleveland and Robert Lemmons, 26, Euclid.

Few humans live more primitively than the 50,000 Indians of the Amazon Basin in Brazil.

A dinner dance will be held by the Gypsy Glen Riding Club March 16 at the Willows in Industry for club members, friends, past sponsors and officials of the horse shows.

Mrs. C. H. Waddell, general chairman said tickets may be obtained from her or from any club member. Reservations should be made by Thursday.

The club will meet at the Lion's Den on Gypsy Glen Rd. Thursday night, Robert Bassett, president, said.

Committees are making plans for the annual horse show at Brady's Run Park June 21-23, a benefit for the Beaver County Society for Crippled Children, sponsored by the Beaver Rotary Club.

Man's Death Blamed On Accidental Fall

CINCINNATI (AP) — Gail Curtis Warp, 32, Tiffin, whose body was found on a street in suburban Mount Adams early Monday, apparently died as a result of an accidental fall from the vehicle in which he was a passenger, police said.

Officers said a Council Bluffs, Iowa, man told them Warp was riding with him when he seemed to suffer a seizure and then fell out the door.

Four Actions Taken

Lisbon's Council Tackles Sudden Garbage Problem

1.—Engage in the control of garbage collection in the village.

2.—Hire a private contractor who will collect his own fees.

3.—Employ Donald Coleman of Lisbon, local service station operator, as the contractor subject to his acceptance of the contract.

4.—Direct the committee to meet again and draw up the specifications — maximum collection fee, a collection schedule and the bond to be required to the contractor.

On the committee are Councilmen Bill Mattix, William Robinson and Willis Coleman and Solicitor Joseph Baronzzi, who presented the proposals last night.

Coleman plans to buy the garbage collection business from Earl Mitchell, who discontinued the operation Saturday. However, Coleman said he does not want to buy Mitchell's packer truck until he knows the contract conditions.

Mayor Clyde B. Pike wanted Mitchell to continue for another week, but Mitchell said he is through. Unless Coleman decides to lease the truck until he sees the contract the community will offer, the only local collection will be by a Canton hauler who has about 50 customers. Mitchell said he served approximately 370 customers. Together, the two haulers have less than half the estimated 1,100 homes and business places in town. Mitchell said the others apparently haul their garbage to the dump themselves.

The Mitchell-Coleman transaction has been under way nearly a month. Coleman asked council for a franchise Feb. 12 and Mayor Pike referred the request to committee.

Israeli And Jordanian Clash Across River

TEL AVIV (AP) — Jordanian and Israeli troops clashed across the Jordan River today for the first time since Israeli jets and guns pounded the east bank nearly three weeks ago.

The firing coincided with Israeli Army reports that Arab saboteurs were still slipping across the river despite a warning from King Hussein of Jordan that they must stop using his kingdom as a jumpoff base.

The army said the Jordanians began shelling an Israeli patrol and Israeli forces returned the fire in a brief exchange. It did not mention any casualties.

400 Acres Of Timber, Brush Leveled By Fire

ATHENS, Ohio (AP) — Some 20 forest fires were brought under control in southeastern Ohio Monday but not before they destroyed 400 acres of timber and brush.

Forestry officials said fires are still a serious threat and burning permit laws have been put into effect.

Vern Honchell, district forester or the Athens area of the State Division of Forestry and Reclamation, said the amount of destruction Monday was unusual for this early in the year.

Frazier TKOs Mathis; Benvenuti Decisions Griffith

Sports Whirled

By TURK PIERCE
Review Sports Editor

Two more additions to the 1968 East Liverpool High School football schedule show old rival Martins Ferry here on Oct. 18 and Bellaire St. John's here on Nov. 1.

The last time East Liverpool met Bellaire St. John's was in 1962, with St. John's winning 14-6. The series between the two schools stands at 3-1 in favor of the Potters, however.

LARRY ROBERTS, former football, basketball and track standout at Beaver Local, won the shotput event in an AAU indoor meet at South Park, near Pittsburgh, on Saturday, with a toss of 42' 6½". The 16-pound shot was used. Roberts holds several track records at Beaver Local. He now competes unattached.

DICK SYMONS of Toronto finished his freshman season at West Virginia with a 13.9 average, third on the 8-5 team. He also grabbed 10.8 rebounds a game, second on the team. He hit 44.9 per cent from the floor and 69.6 per cent from the foul line.

JOHN RINKA of Kenyon is ranked sixth in scoring nationally among small college basketball players with a 31.6 average. His backcourt partner John Dunlop is 37th with a 25.1 mark, to form as fine a backline tandem as anywhere in the game today.

Jeff Claypool of Grove City is 13th and Charlie Claggett of Denison 21st. Claypool is 18th in field goal percentage and Dunlop eighth in foul shooting.

As a team, Kenyon is tops in foul shooting, making 79.2 per cent, and is seventh in scoring and fifth in scoring margin.

Findlay is ninth in scoring, while Ashland is first in defense. Other defensive leaders are Akron fifth, Wittenberg 10th, Hiram 11th, Thiel 16th, Mt Union 17th Wooster 22nd, Denison 25th and Westminster 26th.

WITTENBERG'S Eldon Miller recently celebrated his 100th victory as head coach at the tender age of 28.

THE XAVIER BASKETBALL staff rates Bill Zopf of Monaca and Duquesne as the best guard the Musketeers have faced since Bill Melchionni of Villanova, now of the Philadelphia 76ers.

HAROLD PORTER, 6-8 Villanova freshman from Sarasota, Fla., who played in the Dapper Dan Roundball Classic last year, is reported to be the best freshman in the East. Fans in the Philadelphia area are comparing him to Princeton All-American Bill Bradley.

COLLEGE basketball in the Southwestern Conference will never be on a par with the rest of the country. The USBWA All-District 6 (Arkansas and Texas) team has two players from Houston and three from the SWC — two that I've never heard of. If you can name a SWC player in the NBA you're a real basketball buff.

Frazier Champ In Four States

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Nino Benvenuti is once again middleweight champion of the world and Joe Frazier rules as heavyweight king of at least part of it today after a record-setting boxing doubleheader at Madison Square Garden.

A crowd of 18,096 paid $683,503, an indoor fight gate record, to watch the stylish Benvenuti outlast Emile Griffith for a unanimous decision and Frazier stalk and pound blubbery Buster Mathis into submission in the 11th round.

Frazier, fighting for recognition by New York, Massachusetts, Maine, and Illinois as heavyweight champ, wore Mathis down with punishing body blows before finally dropping the big guy from Grand Rapids, Mich., with a short, stiff left hook in the 11th.

Mathis, his white trunks covered with blood, fell into the ropes heavily. He stumbled to his feet at the count of nine but Referee Arthur Mercante stopped the fight. The time was 2:33.

"This ought to prove who owns who," a jubilant Frazier shouted in his dressing room. Joe, who won the Olympic heavyweight title in 1964, twice lost to Mathis as an amateur. The defeats were the only blemishes on his record.

Frazier, the one-time butcher boy from Philadelphia, bloodied Mathis' nose in the third round, and then concentrated on the big guy's body in the middle rounds.

The stiff body punches tore into Buster's ample mid-section and took the steam out of the 243½ pound Mathis' fast start.

Yancy Durham, Frazier's manager, had advised the 24-year-old slugger to work on Mathis' body. "Beat him around the belly," Durham had told Frazier, "and he'll eventually give up."

So Joe, giving up 39 pounds to Mathis, pounded away and from the sixth round on it seemed obvious he was in complete control.

Mathis, badly shaken by the defeat, said he was stunned at losing the way he did.

"I thought I was ahead," he said, "then I pulled back from left hook and got tagged."

Jimmy Iselin, wealthy young head of Peers, Inc., which has managed Mathis' career, said that if Buster continued fighting, it would be against tougher opponents.

Frazier went into the bout a 2-1 favorite, mostly because he had faced tougher opponents in his 19-fight career than Buster.

"Maybe we took this fight too soon," said Iselin, "I don't know."

Frazier was undaunted by the limited recognition of only four states and the pre-fight picket lines thrown up by supporters of Cassius Clay. The pickets carried signs claiming Clay still was heavyweight champion. Cassius was stripped of his title by several boxing commissions for refusing to serve in the Armed Forces.

Asked if he felt like the world champion, Frazier became annoyed.

"What do you think, man? he snapped. "What do you think I was fighting for out there?"

Both boxers lunged into each other in the opening minute of the round and Benvenuti's left crunched into Griffith's jaw. Emile sagged and Nino pumped a right that sent him to the canvas.

"The guy hit me," said Griffith, "there's no doubt about that." Emile spun across the ring and landed on the seat of his pants with a stunned look on his face.

"I was thinking clearly," said Emile. "I even helped the referee with the count." Griffith rose at three and took the mandatory eight. He backtracked the rest of the round, weathering Benvenuti's attempt to end it.

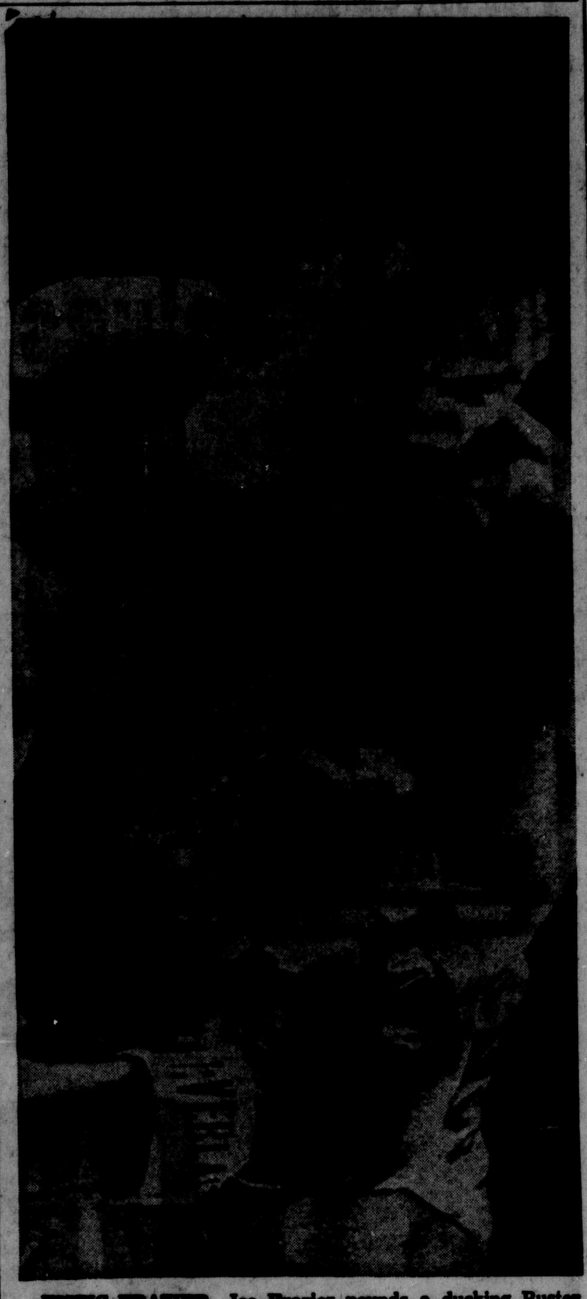

Now Nino, who weighed 160 to Emile's 154½, took control and for the next few rounds he made up an early deficit. Then, with Griffith unleashing a furious closing flurry, Nino counterpunched effectively and gained the decision.

As the decision was announced, bands of Benvenuti's countrymen rushed into the ring, waving the green, red and white Italian flag. Throughout the fight they had filled the Garden with chants of "Neeno, Neeno, Neeno."

Benvenuti, who first beat Griffith for the middleweight crown last April 17, then lost a rematch to the New Yorker Sept. 29, left the door open for a fourth meeting.

"I can't say," he told newsmen. "I won't decide about a rematch until later."

Nino got $80,000, Mathis $75,000, and Griffith and Frazier $175,000 each. The gate broke the indoor record of $511,000 set by the third Floyd Patterson-Ingermar Johansson heavyweight title fight at Miami Beach's Convention Hall March 13, 1961.

Revenge Motive For Frazier Win

By RALPH BERNSTEIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Joe Frazier indicated there was four years of frustration behind the left hook that finished huge Buster Mathis and made the unbeaten Philadelphian heavyweight champion in four states.

Sitting in his Madison Square Garden dressing room Monday night, Frazier said he hoped his technical knockout victory at 2:33 of the 11th round ended the myth that Mathis owned Frazier.

"This ought to prove who owns who," said the 204½ pound former meat cutter.

Frazier, of course, referred to the pair of three-round decisions he lost to Mathis in the 1964 Olympic Trials. He's been haunted ever since by the spectre of the hulking heavyweight from Grand Rapids, Mich.

Frazier admitted he had grown tired of hearing how Mathis had licked him. Referring to those who picked Mathis to do it a third time, Frazier said, "People weren't fighting Mathis, I was. I knew I would win. I couldn't predict the round because then Mathis would have been ready."

Now recognized as champion in New York, Massachusetts, Maine and Illinois, the 24-year-old Frazier said he was ready to settle undisputed possession of the heavyweight title taken from Cassius Clay for violating the draft law.

Frazier's manager, Yancey Durham, said, however, he was taking his tiger home to rest for at least two months. "I'm not dickering for any fight. I've no plans now."

Durham and Frazier said their strategy was to hammer at the belly until they wore down the big oak. Durham said he told his tiger before the bell for the 11th, "We're going out and kayo this guy in this round."

Did he feel like the world champion?

"What do you think man? retorted Frazier in an annoyed tone. "What do you think I was fighting for out there?"

Mathis, in a brief confrontation with newsmen, said he felt strong at the end. "I don't know why the referee stopped it," he said, although he staggered to his feet at nine and obviously was in distress.

He and Frazier finally agreed on something.

NEW YORK (AP) — The punch that regained the world middleweight championship for Nino Benvenuti was a left cross, "my best punch," as he put it.

The punch floored Emile Griffith for an atuomatic eight count in the ninth round and was a major factor in Benvenuti gaining a close, but unanimous 15-round decision Monday night.

Griffith, who now has lost twice to Benvenuti in their three title fights, conceded it was an authentic knockdown "not a shove like in our first fight," but said it was right that floored him.

"Well, it might have been a left that put me down, but the right had a little zing to it, too."

That earned Griffith the last round on all three official scorecards, but it wasn't enough.

The new champion kept reporters waiting outside his dressing room door for 45 minutes, but then he laughed when asked if Griffith had hurt him in the last round.

"No, no. He didn't hurt me. I as just surprised that he had so much stuff left."

Nino himself seemed tired when he was rushed past the waiting reporters and ordered "don't let anyone in."

When they finally were admitted Benvenuti was seated on a table alongside his pretty wife, Giuliana. She kept silent while Nino answered questions.

"Nothing wrong with my ribs tonight," he replied to one question. Last September, when he lost the title to Griffith in outdoor Shea Stadium, Nino said his ribs had been hurt in an earlier round.

What about another title bout with Griffith?

"I can't say now," Nino replied. "I'm going on a brief vacation with my wife." He smiled at her and leaning over, gave her a kiss.

"We plan to return to our home in Italy in a week. Then we can talk about a rematch."

Gil Clancy, Griffith's manager, said he thought Nino "won a few rounds with last-minute flurries that looked impressive." As for a fourth title bout between Nino and Emile, Clancy declared, "I think the fight tonight calls for one."

Kansas State Clinches Berth In NCAA Tourney

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

Kansas State and Iowa, now assured of first-place ties in their respective conferences, must wait until Saturday to do something about clinching titles. But Columbia and Princeton will settle that problem tonight.

Eighth-ranked Columbia and Princeton will play off for the Ivy League championship at neutral St. John's Alumni Hall in New York. Princeton forced the playoff by beating Columbia last Saturday night in the final regular-season game.

Columbia is 20-4 and Princeton 20-5 over-all. Each is 12-2 in the Ivy.

This gave the Wildcats a 10-3 conference mark and kept them one game ahead of Kansas, which edged Oklahoma 85-80 at Norman, Okla. Kansas State is at home against Oklahoma State in its final regular-season game Saturday while Kansas plays at Iowa State.

Kansas State, however, is assured of an NCAA berth. The worst K-State can do is tie Kansas for the title, and K-State beat Kansas twice in their home-and-home series. This would determine the champion in the event of a tie, and no playoff would be necesssary.

Sam Williams broke the game wide opening by scoring eight points within 58 seconds midway through the second half as Iowa clinched a Big Ten tie by trouncing Minnesota 91-72 at Minneapolis.

Iowa, now 10-3 in the conference, needs to beat Michigan in its regular-season finale at Iowa City Saturday to wrap up the title. Ohio State, in second place a game back, closed its regular season on the road Monday night by nipping Illinois 67-64.

Top-ranked Houston and No. 9 Louisville, the only two members of The Associated Press Top Ten to see action, both closed out their regular seasons with easy victory.

Houston, 28-0, smashed West Texas State 107-76 at Canyon, Tex., as Player of the Year Elvin Hayes poured in 39 points and grabbed 27 rebounds.

All-American Westley Unseld scored 30 points and cleared 23 rebounds as Louisville, 20-6 and the Missouri Valley champion, romped 107-58 over Bellarmine at home.

In other games, Vanderbilt thrashed Louisiana State 115-86, Tulane topped Virginia Tech 88-78, Utah State edged Portland 71-69 and Seattle whipped Texas El-Paso 67-51 in home-court triumphs.

Louisiana State's All-American Pete Maravich scored 42 points and became the greatest scoring sophomore, with 1,138. Only one major-college player has scored more in one season —Frank Selvy of Furman with 1,209 in 1954. Maravich's 43.8-point per game average is a record.

Houston's Guy Lewis Named Coach Of Year

As usual, two soft drink cases holding 48 paper cups of water were at Lewis' feet Monday night as his University of Houston Cougars completed their regular season schedule with a 28-0 record by defeating West Texas State, 107-76, at Canyon.

Just two hours before the tipoff Lewis had won The Associated Press coach of the year award in run-away fashion. With 322 sports writers and broadcasters voting, Lewis collected 122 votes to 34 for John Wooden of UCLA, the 1966-67 season winner.

Lewis' award came just three days after Elvin Hays, the pace setter for the high scoring Cougars, captured the player of the year award with a landslide victory over UCLA's Lew Alcindor.

Houston had held the No. 1 national ranking since snapping UCLA's 47-game winning streak Jan. 20 with a 71-69 victory before a record crowd of 52,693 in the Astrodome.

Both Lewis and Hayes say their honors belong to the team and they agree the UCLA victor may have turned a good ball team into a great one.

"They were confident before that game and when it was over they just oozed with confidence," Lewis said.

"Since the UCLA game we've worked better for the good shot," Lewis said. "I've thought we had good team play since the first of the season but since the UCLA game it has been the best I've ever seen on a college team, particularly for desire and an ability to give the ball to the open man."

Lewis, who will be 46 on March 19, was Houston's first great athlete. He was co-captain of the school's first two basketball teams and both of them reached the NAIA playoffs in Kansas City.

Queen, Helms Sign Pacts With Reds

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Starting pitcher Mel Queen, second baseman Tommy Helms and rookie moundsman Jay Ritchie signed contracts Monday, narrowing the Cincinnati Reds holdout list to four.

Salaries were not disclosed.

Queen, one of four already tabbed for starting rotation, usually requires extra time to condition his arm. A spare outfielder in 1966, he perfected pitching technique at the urging of the Reds.

Unsigned yet are three frontliners — outfielders Vada Pinson and Pete Rose and pitcher Jim Maloney — and handyman Chico Ruiz.

Manager Dave Bristol said there will be no intrasquad games, and drills this week would be principally "situation stuff."

Davidson Takes 10th In College Cage Poll

By The Associated Press

Three, and possibly four, members of the Top Ten major college basketball teams begin play this week in the NCAA tournament, but two others might have to fight each other just to get in.

Top-ranked and unbeaten Houston, third-ranked and unbeaten St. Bonaventure and No. 10 Davidson help get the NCAA tourney under way Saturday.

Columbia's eighth-ranked Lions also will play Saturday if they can beat Princeton in an Ivy League playoff tonight. If not, Princeton will play La Salle at College Park, Md.

Davidson will meet St. John's, N.Y., also at College Park; Houston takes on Chicago Loyola at Salt Lake City, Utah, and St. Bonaventure battles Boston College at Kingston, R.I.

But North Carolina and Duke, Nos. 5 and 6, must compete in the Atlantic Coast Conference tournament, which determines the NCAA representative.

The teams played last Saturday, and the outcome was North Carolina's second 87-86 loss of the week. The first was to South Carolina and, coupled with the second, knocked the Tar Heels from third to fifth.

Duke, on the other hand, rocketed from 10th to sixth, replacing Columbia, which tumbled to eighth after losing to Princeton.

Second-ranked UCLA already has an NCAA spot but doesn't close its regular season schedule until Saturday against Southern California.

In this week's poll, Kentucky moved up one notch to fourth, New Mexico remained seventh, and Louisville held onto No. 9.

Marquette, No. 8 last week, dropped out after losing to Xavier, Ohio, and Western Michigan while Davidson took over the 10th spot after winning three games in the Southern Conference tournament.

2. UCLA (3)	255

U.S. Dominates Gym Championships

VANCOUVER, B.C. (AP) — The United States dominated the three-day North American gymnastics Championships which ended Saturday by winning the men's and women's team titles and all but two of the 14 gold medals.

Linda Methenny of Tuscola, Ill., won three gold medals including the women's all-around title. Richard Lloyd of Louisiana was the men's standout, winning the all-around title, another gold and two silvers.

Denison Captures OC Mat Title

HIRAM, Ohio (AP)—Denison captured four events and rolled up 83 points for an easy victory in the Ohio Conference Wrestling Championships Saturday.

Defending champion Hiram squeaked past Baldwin-Wallace 59-54 for second.

Muskingum was fourth with 51, followed by Ohio Wesleyan 34, Wooster 31, Wittenberg 27, Capital 23, Oberlin 18, Mount Union 14, Heidelberg 14, Marietta 11, Otterbein 7 and Kenyon 6.

Ohio St. Beats Illinois, Chance For Title Slim

By The Associated Press

Ohio State nipped Illinois 67-64 Monday night and the Buckeyes began a waiting game to see if they'll finish in a tie for the Big Ten championship.

Ohio State finished its Big Ten campaign with a 10-4 record good enough for at least second place in the conference. Iowa trounced Minnesota 91-72 Monday and leads the league with a 10-3 slate.

But the Hawkeyes have one game remaining, at home Saturday against Michigan. If there is a tie for the title, a playoff will be scheduled early next week to decide who goes to the NCAA tournament.

Free throws by Steve Howell and Jody Finney in the last 14 seconds carried Ohio State past Illinois at Champaign. After Illinois' tied the score 64-64 with 1:37 remaining, Howell made two free throws and Finney tossed in one.

Howell topped all scorers with 25 points. Bill Hosket added 19 for Ohio State and Denny Pace led Illinois with 18.

Two overtime battles highlighted the NAIA District 22 playoff in Ohio. Ohio Northern edged Findlay 78-77 and Central State beat Defiance 45-41.

Two more additions to the 1968 East Liverpool High School football schedule show old rival Martins Ferry here on Oct. 18 and Bellaire St. John's here on Nov. 1.

The last time East Liverpool met Bellaire St. John's was in 1962, with St. John's winning 14-6. The series between the two schools stands at 3-1 in favor of the Potters, however.

LARRY ROBERTS, former football, basketball and track standout at Beaver Local, won the shotput event in an AAU indoor meet at South Park, near Pittsburgh, on Saturday, with a toss of 42' 6½". The 16-pound shot was used. Roberts holds several track records at Beaver Local. He now competes unattached.

DICK SYMONS of Toronto finished his freshman season at West Virginia with a 13.9 average, third on the 8-5 team. He also grabbed 10.8 rebounds a game, second on the team. He hit 44.9 per cent from the floor and 69.6 per cent from the foul line.

JOHN RINKA of Kenyon is ranked sixth in scoring nationally among small college basketball players with a 31.6 average. His backcourt partner John Dunlop is 37th with a 25.1 mark, to form as fine a backline tandem as anywhere in the game today.

Jeff Claypool of Grove City is 13th and Charlie Claggett of Denison 21st. Claypool is 18th in field goal percentage and Dunlop eighth in foul shooting.

As a team, Kenyon is tops in foul shooting, making 79.2 per cent, and is seventh in scoring and fifth in scoring margin.

Findlay is ninth in scoring, while Ashland is first in defense. Other defensive leaders are Akron fifth, Wittenberg 10th, Hiram 11th, Thiel 16th, Mt Union 17th Wooster 22nd, Denison 25th and Westminster 26th.

WITTENBERG'S Eldon Miller recently celebrated his 100th victory as head coach at the tender age of 28.

THE XAVIER BASKETBALL staff rates Bill Zopf of Monaca and Duquesne as the best guard the Musketeers have faced since Bill Melchionni of Villanova, now of the Philadelphia 76ers.

HAROLD PORTER, 6-8 Villanova freshman from Sarasota, Fla., who played in the Dapper Dan Roundball Classic last year, is reported to be the best freshman in the East. Fans in the Philadelphia area are comparing him to Princeton All-American Bill Bradley.

COLLEGE basketball in the Southwestern Conference will never be on a par with the rest of the country. The USBWA All-District 6 (Arkansas and Texas) team has two players from Houston and three from the SWC — two that I've never heard of. If you can name a SWC player in the NBA you're a real basketball buff.

Frazier Champ In Four States

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Nino Benvenuti is once again middleweight champion of the world and Joe Frazier rules as heavyweight king of at least part of it today after a record-setting boxing doubleheader at Madison Square Garden.

A crowd of 18,096 paid $683,503, an indoor fight gate record, to watch the stylish Benvenuti outlast Emile Griffith for a unanimous decision and Frazier stalk and pound blubbery Buster Mathis into submission in the 11th round.

Frazier, fighting for recognition by New York, Massachusetts, Maine, and Illinois as heavyweight champ, wore Mathis down with punishing body blows before finally dropping the big guy from Grand Rapids, Mich., with a short, stiff left hook in the 11th.

Mathis, his white trunks covered with blood, fell into the ropes heavily. He stumbled to his feet at the count of nine but Referee Arthur Mercante stopped the fight. The time was 2:33.

"This ought to prove who owns who," a jubilant Frazier shouted in his dressing room. Joe, who won the Olympic heavyweight title in 1964, twice lost to Mathis as an amateur. The defeats were the only blemishes on his record.

Frazier, the one-time butcher boy from Philadelphia, bloodied Mathis' nose in the third round, and then concentrated on the big guy's body in the middle rounds.

The stiff body punches tore into Buster's ample mid-section and took the steam out of the 243½ pound Mathis' fast start.

Yancy Durham, Frazier's manager, had advised the 24-year-old slugger to work on Mathis' body. "Beat him around the belly," Durham had told Frazier, "and he'll eventually give up."

So Joe, giving up 39 pounds to Mathis, pounded away and from the sixth round on it seemed obvious he was in complete control.

Mathis, badly shaken by the defeat, said he was stunned at losing the way he did.

"I thought I was ahead," he said, "then I pulled back from left hook and got tagged."

Jimmy Iselin, wealthy young head of Peers, Inc., which has managed Mathis' career, said that if Buster continued fighting, it would be against tougher opponents.

Frazier went into the bout a 2-1 favorite, mostly because he had faced tougher opponents in his 19-fight career than Buster.

"Maybe we took this fight too soon," said Iselin, "I don't know."

Frazier was undaunted by the limited recognition of only four states and the pre-fight picket lines thrown up by supporters of Cassius Clay. The pickets carried signs claiming Clay still was heavyweight champion. Cassius was stripped of his title by several boxing commissions for refusing to serve in the Armed Forces.

Asked if he felt like the world champion, Frazier became annoyed.

"What do you think, man? he snapped. "What do you think I was fighting for out there?"

Both boxers lunged into each other in the opening minute of the round and Benvenuti's left crunched into Griffith's jaw. Emile sagged and Nino pumped a right that sent him to the canvas.

"The guy hit me," said Griffith, "there's no doubt about that." Emile spun across the ring and landed on the seat of his pants with a stunned look on his face.

"I was thinking clearly," said Emile. "I even helped the referee with the count." Griffith rose at three and took the manditory eight. He backtracked the rest of the round, weathering Benvenuti's attempt to end it.

Now Nino, who weighed 160 to Emile's 154½, took control and for the next few rounds he made up an early deficit. Then, with Griffith unleashing a furious closing flurry, Nino counterpunched effectively and gained the decision.

As the decision was announced, bands of Benvenuti's countrymen rushed into the ring, waving the green, red and white Italian flag. Throughout the fight they had filled the Garden with chants of "Neeno, Neeno, Neeno."

Benvenuti, who first beat Griffith for the middleweight crown last April 17, then lost a rematch to the New Yorker Sept. 29, left the door open for a fourth meeting.

"I can't say," he told newsmen. "I won't decide about a rematch until later."

Nino got $80,000, Mathis $75,000, and Griffith and Frazier $175,000 each. The gate broke the indoor record of $511,000 set by the third Floyd Patterson-Ingermar Johansson heavyweight title fight at Miami Beach's Convention Hall March 13, 1961.

Revenge Motive For Frazier Win

Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Joe Frazier indicated there was four years of frustration behind the left hook that finished huge Buster Mathis and made the unbeaten Philadelphian heavyweight champion in four states.

Sitting in his Madison Square Garden dressing room Monday night, Frazier said he hoped his technical knockout victory at 2:33 of the 11th round ended the myth that Mathis owned Frazier.

"This ought to prove who owns who," said the 204½ pound former meat cutter.

Frazier, of course, referred to the pair of three-round decisions he lost to Mathis in the 1964 Olympic Trials. He's been haunted ever since by the spectre of the hulking heavyweight from Grand Rapids, Mich.

Frazier admitted he had grown tired of hearing how Mathis had licked him. Referring to those who picked Mathis to do it a third time, Frazier said, "People weren't fighting Mathis, I was. I knew I would win. I couldn't predict the round because then Mathis would have been ready."

Now recognized as champion in New York, Massachusetts, Maine and Illinois, the 24-year-old Frazier said he was ready to settle undisputed possession of the heavyweight title taken from Cassius Clay for violating the draft law.

Frazier's manager, Yancey Durham, said, however, he was taking his tiger home to rest for at least two months. "I'm not dickering for any fight. I've no plans now."

Durham and Frazier said their strategy was to hammer at the belly until they wore down the big oak. Durham said he told his tiger before the bell for the 11th, "We're going out and kayo this guy in this round."

Did he feel like the world champion?

"What do you think man? retorted Frazier in an annoyed tone. "What do you think I was fighting for out there?"

Mathis, in a brief confrontation with newsmen, said he felt strong at the end. "I don't know why the referee stopped it," he said, although he staggered to his feet at nine and obviously was in distress.

He and Frazier finally agreed on something.

NEW YORK (AP) — The punch that regained the world middleweight championship for Nino Benvenuti was a left cross, "my best punch," as he put it.

The punch floored Emile Griffith for an atuomatic eight count in the ninth round and was a major factor in Benvenuti gaining a close, but unanimous 15-round decision Monday night.

Griffith, who now has lost twice to Benvenuti in their three title fights, conceded it was an authentic knockdown "not a shove like in our first fight," but said it was right that floored him.

"Well, it might have been a left that put me down, but the right had a little zing to it, too."

That earned Griffith the last round on all three official scorecards, but it wasn't enough.

The new champion kept reporters waiting outside his dressing room door for 45 minutes, but then he laughed when asked if Griffith had hurt him in the last round.

"No, no. He didn't hurt me. I as just surprised that he had so much stuff left."

Nino himself seemed tired when he was rushed past the waiting reporters and ordered "don't let anyone in."

When they finally were admitted Benvenuti was seated on a table alongside his pretty wife, Giuliana. She kept silent while Nino answered questions.

"Nothing wrong with my ribs tonight," he replied to one question. Last September, when he lost the title to Griffith in outdoor Shea Stadium, Nino said his ribs had been hurt in an earlier round.

What about another title bout with Griffith?

"I can't say now," Nino replied. "I'm going on a brief vacation with my wife." He smiled at her and leaning over, gave her a kiss.

"We plan to return to our home in Italy in a week. Then we can talk about a rematch."

Gil Clancy, Griffith's manager, said he thought Nino "won a few rounds with last-minute flurries that looked impressive." As for a fourth title bout between Nino and Emile, Clancy declared, "I think the fight tonight calls for one."

Kansas State Clinches Berth In NCAA Tourney

By ED SCHUYLER JR.

Kansas State and Iowa, now assured of first-place ties in their respective conferences, must wait until Saturday to do something about clinching titles. But Columbia and Princeton will settle that problem tonight.

Eighth-ranked Columbia and Princeton will play off for the Ivy League championship at neutral St. John's Alumni Hall in New York. Princeton forced the playoff by beating Columbia last Saturday night in the final regular-season game.

Columbia is 20-4 and Princeton 20-5 over-all. Each is 12-2 in the Ivy.

This gave the Wildcats a 10-3 conference mark and kept them one game ahead of Kansas, which edged Oklahoma 85-80 at Norman, Okla. Kansas State is at home against Oklahoma State in its final regular-season game Saturday while Kansas plays at Iowa State.

Kansas State, however, is assured of an NCAA berth. The worst K-State can do is tie Kansas for the title, and K-State beat Kansas twice in their home-and-home series. This would determine the champion in the event of a tie, and no playoff would be necesssary.

Sam Williams broke the game wide opening by scoring eight points within 58 seconds midway through the second half as Iowa clinched a Big Ten tie by trouncing Minnesota 91-72 at Minneapolis.

Iowa, now 10-3 in the conference, needs to beat Michigan in its regular-season finale at Iowa City Saturday to wrap up the title. Ohio State, in second place a game back, closed its regular season on the road Monday night by nipping Illinois 67-64.

Top-ranked Houston and No. 9 Louisville, the only two members of The Associated Press Top Ten to see action, both closed out their regular seasons with easy victory.

Houston, 28-0, smashed West Texas State 107-76 at Canyon, Tex., as Player of the Year Elvin Hayes poured in 39 points and grabbed 27 rebounds.

All-American Westley Unseld scored 30 points and cleared 23 rebounds as Louisville, 20-6 and the Missouri Valley champion, romped 107-58 over Bellarmine at home.

In other games, Vanderbilt thrashed Louisiana State 115-86, Tulane topped Virginia Tech 88-78, Utah State edged Portland 71-69 and Seattle whipped Texas El-Paso 67-51 in home-court triumphs.

Louisiana State's All-American Pete Maravich scored 42 points and became the greatest scoring sophomore, with 1,138. Only one major-college player has scored more in one season —Frank Selvy of Furman with 1,209 in 1954. Maravich's 43.8-point per game average is a record.

Davidson Takes 10th In College Cage Poll

By The Associated Press

Three, and possibly four, members of the Top Ten major college basketball teams begin play this week in the NCAA tournament, but two others might have to fight each other just to get in.

Top-ranked and unbeaten Houston, third-ranked and unbeaten St. Bonaventure and No. 10 Davidson help get the NCAA tourney under way Saturday.

Columbia's eighth-ranked Lions also will play Saturday if they can beat Princeton in an Ivy League playoff tonight. If not, Princeton will play La Salle at College Park, Md.

Davidson will meet St. John's, N.Y., also at College Park; Houston takes on Chicago Loyola at Salt Lake City, Utah, and St. Bonaventure battles Boston College at Kingston, R.I.

But North Carolina and Duke, Nos. 5 and 6, must compete in the Atlantic Coast Conference tournament, which determines the NCAA representative.

The teams played last Saturday, and the outcome was North Carolina's second 87-86 loss of the week. The first was to South Carolina and, coupled with the second, knocked the Tar Heels from third to fifth.

Duke, on the other hand, rocketed from 10th to sixth, replacing Columbia, which tumbled to eighth after losing to Princeton.

Second-ranked UCLA already has an NCAA spot but doesn't close its regular season schedule until Saturday against Southern California.

In this week's poll, Kentucky moved up one notch to fourth, New Mexico remained seventh, and Louisville held onto No. 9.

Marquette, No. 8 last week, dropped out after losing to Xavier, Ohio, and Western Michigan while Davidson took over the 10th spot after winning three games in the Southern Conference tournament.

1. Houston (24)	267
2. UCLA (3)	255
3. St. Bonaventure	212
4. Kentucky	176
5. North Carolina	151
6. Duke	113

U.S. Dominates Gym Championships

VANCOUVER, B.C. (AP) — The United States dominated the three-day North American gymnastics Championships which ended Saturday by winning the men's and women's team titles and all but two of the 14 gold medals.

Linda Methenny of Tuscola, Ill., won three gold medals including the women's all-around title. Richard Lloyd of Louisiana was the men's standout, winning the all-around title, another gold and two silvers.

Denison Captures OC Mat Title

HIRAM, Ohio (AP)—Denison captured four events and rolled up 82 points for an easy victory in the Ohio Conference Wrestling Championships Saturday.

Defending champion Hiram squeaked past Baldwin-Wallace 59-54 for second.

Muskingum was fourth with 51, followed by Ohio Wesleyan 34, Wooster 31, Wittenberg 27, Capital 23, Oberlin 18, Mount Union 14, Heidelberg 14, Marietta 11, Otterbein 7 and Kenyon 6.

Ohio St. Beats Illinois, Chance For Title Slim

By The Associated Press

Ohio State nipped Illinois 67-64 Monday night and the Buckeyes began a waiting game to see if they'll finish in a tie for the Big Ten championship.

Ohio State finished its Big Ten campaign with a 10-4 record good enough for at least second place in the conference. Iowa trounced Minnesota 91-72 Monday and leads the league with a 10-3 slate.

But the Hawkeyes have one game remaining, at home Saturday against Michigan. If there is a tie for the title, a playoff will be scheduled early next week to decide who goes to the NCAA tournament.

Free throws by Steve Howell and Jody Finney in the last 14 seconds carried Ohio State past Illinois at Champaign. After Illinois tied the score 64-64 with 1:37 remaining, Howell made two free throws and Finney tossed in one.

Howell topped all scorers with 25 points. Bill Hosket added 19 for Ohio State and Denny Pace led Illinois with 18.

Houston's Guy Lewis Named Coach Of Year

As usual, two soft drink cases holding 48 paper cups of water were at Lewis' feet Monday night as his University of Houston Cougars completed their regular season schedule with a 28-0 record by defeating West Texas State, 107-76, at Canyon.

Just two hours before the tipoff Lewis had won The Associated Press coach of the year award in run-away fashion. With 322 sports writers and broadcasters voting, Lewis collected 122 votes to 34 for John Wooden of UCLA, the 1966-67 season winner.

Lewis' award came just three days after Elvin Hays, the pace setter for the high scoring Cougars, captured the player of the year award with a landslide victory over UCLA's Lew Alcindor.

Houston had held the No. 1 national ranking since snapping UCLA's 47-game winning streak Jan. 20 with a 71-69 victory before a record crowd of 52,693 in the Astrodome.

Both Lewis and Hayes say their honors belong to the team and they agree the UCLA victor may have turned a good ball team into a great one.

"They were confident before that game and when it was over they just oozed with confidence," Lewis said.

"Since the UCLA game we've worked better for the good shot," Lewis said. "I've thought we had good team play since the first of the season but since the UCLA game it has been the best I've ever seen on a college team, particularly for desire and an ability to give the ball to the open man."

Lewis, who will be 46 on March 19, was Houston's first great athlete. He was co-captain of the school's first two basketball teams and both of them reached the NAIA playoffs in Kansas City.

Valley Sub Hits Shot At Buzzer

Farrell Nipped In Overtime

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Al Jackson scored only 31 points in 23 games for Valley High School of New Kensington and was known as something of a defensive specialist.

So it was that Coach Mike Rice put Jackson, a 5-foot-7 senior, in for the first time Monday night with 35 seconds left of an overtime period and Valley trailing Farrell by a point in a WPIAL Class A quarterfinal game.

"He's real quick and good on defense, so I put him in because we had to press to get the ball back," Rice explained.

The Vikings couldn't get it without fouling though, but after they did Jackson flipped home a 23-foot jump shot with one second to go that lifted them to a 58-57 upset and a spot in the semifinals.

"I told them to foul with 15 seconds to go but they didn't go after them right away," Rice said, "and then we fouled the wrong guy. I was going to take Jackson out then to get more height in the lineup but decided to leave him in."

The "wrong guy" was Nick Kucik, a big gun all night who grabbed 19 rebounds, but he missed a chance to wrap it up—just as another Jackson — Phil had done after regulation time when he missed a pair of free throws.

Valley's opponent in Thursday's semifinal will be unbeaten Donora, which methodically made Penn Hills its 21st victim 76-64 in the nightcap of Monday night's doubleheader before 10,848 at the Civic Arena.

Valley won its 22nd game in 24 tries with its two top scorers Torrence Lyle and Craig Confer on the bench with five fouls. Both were finished with more than five minutes to play and Farrell ahead by four but Phil Jackson and Phil Ayers paced the surge that tied it.

Lyle finished with 19 points and Ayers with 11. Game honors went to Dave Johnson of Farrell, who scored 23.

Somerset Scores 41 As Mavericks Win

By The Associated Press

Willie Somerset of Houston acts as if he doesn't want to see the season end, and his 41-point performance Monday night was a step toward prolonging it for the Mavericks.

The 5-foot-9 guard shot Houston into a lead and kept the Mavericks in front en route to a 130-120 victory over Oakland in an American Basketball League game at Houston.

The triumph tightened Houston's hold on fourth place, the last playoff spot, in the Western Division to two games over the Oaks and 2½ over Anaheim.

Denver increased its hold on second place with a 108-98 home victory over third-place Dallas, but the Rockets failed to gain on leading New Orleans, which tumbled Indiana 128-118 at Fort Wayne, Ind., in the only other game.

With the season ending March 22, Houston's two-game lead looks more substantial every day. Somerset's scoring put the Mavericks into an early lead and when the Oaks pulled within 68-64, he took over again and shot Houston into a 95-81 spread.

Jim Hadnot had 28 points for Oakland.

Denver, 2½ games behind New Orleans and now 2½ ahead of Dallas, shot into a 64-50 halftime lead and then had to hang on.

Larry Jones scored 30 points and Lonnie Wright 23 for Denver while John Beasley had 27 for the Chaparrels.

Robinson, Callison Top Lengthy Holdout Roster

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Frank Robinson and Johnny Callison feel Baltimore and Philadelphia are adding insult to injury with their money offers to play baseball this year. The Orioles and Phillies, on the other hand, feel Robinson and Callison have added their figures wrong.

As a result of these mixed up mathematics of baseball value, the two slugging outfielders remained two of the biggest name holdouts as major league spring training moves on.

But some agreeable figures were reached Monday as Frank Howard signed the largest money contract ever, $47,500, by a Washington player; Mel Queen, Tommy Helms and rookie Jay Ritchie ended their holdout with Cincinnati, and the Orioles did come to terms with Dave Johnson and Curt Blefary.

Robinson, however, remained Baltimore's big problem, and if everyone's figures are correct, the American League Triple Crown winner two years ago and the Orioles are $15,000 apart.

Robinson, who sat out a month last season with double vision after a baseline collision and still managed to hit .311 with 94 runs batted in and 30 home runs, says he is standing by $125,000.

Personnel director Harry Dalton of the Orioles, who originally offered last year's $100,000 salary, then raised it to $105,000, reportedly increased his offer to $110,000 Monday after talking to Robinson 1½ hours.

For Callison, a former All-Star outfielder who suffered a torn cartilage last year and played in considerable pain for some time, the problem was a little different. He was being asked to take a cut from the reported $40,000 to $50,000 he got in 1967.

Mahovlich Traded By Leafs

TORONTO (AP) — The switchboard at Maple Leaf Gardens was flooded with angry calls. Outside on the sidewalk, a stunned crowd milled around in confusion. On the local stock exchange, shares of the Garden corporation lost $1.

Frank Mahovlich had been traded.

The veteran left winger—for whom the Maple Leafs had once refused $1 million—went to the Detroit Red Wings Monday in an eight-player deal that aroused indignation throughout Toronto.

A switchboard operator at the Garden said most of the callers were "indignant and some were quite emotional. Many tried to find out who they can write letters of protest to."

San Obodiak of the Leafs' publicity department said most of the callers were "housewives who were stunned at the announcement. There are people milling around on the sidewalk outside of the Garden who want to come in and protest. But only a few have dropped in so far."

Mahovlich, 30, scored 48 goals during the 1960-61 season, and has 296 in his 11-year career, a club record. He has 19 this season, but missed five weeks because of a nervous breakdown.

Six years ago, the Chicago Black Hawks offered the Leafs $1 million for Mahovlich at a late-night cocktail party and the following day, Tommy Ivan of Chicago showed up with a certified check for the amount.

The deal was finally cancelled after a storm of protest from fans similar to the one triggered by the trade Monday.

Rod Gilbert, Stan Mikita Share Lead

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Hockey League's senior East division is enjoying its best race in years and the tension is spilling over into the scoring race.

Just two points separate the top four scorers with New York's Rod Gilbert and Jean Ratelle battling Chicago's Stan Mikita and Bobby Hull for the top spot.

Gilbert and Mikita share the lead today with 73 points apiece while Hull and Ratelle are tied at 71. Mikita, of course, has captured the scoring title three of the last four years with Hull breaking his teammate's string by taking it in 1966.

Boston's Phil Esposito, traded by Chicago during the summer, holds down fifth place with 69 points, three more than Detroit's Gordie Howe. Johnny Bucyk and Fred Stanfield of Boston share the seventh slot with 61 points, Chicago's Ken Wharram has 59 and Alex Delvecchio of Detroit 58.

Edinboro, Westminster Win In NAIA

BEAVER FALLS, Pa. (AP)—Westminster and Edinboro have advanced to the NAIA District 18 basketball finals with narrow victories. They'll play here Wednesday night for a spot in the national tournament at Kansas City starting March 11.

Edinboro outscored Gannon 18-2 in the final 8:47 of their game at Meadville Monday night to win 55-52.

Meanwhile Westminster, ranked 15th by the NAIA, scored 14 straight points near the end to pull away from Indiana 66-59 at Geneva College.

Jim Robinson and Don Dougan paced Edinboro's victory with 15 points each, including 8 and 6, respectively, in the closing rally. Al Chrisman scored 18 for Gannon.

Miami's Foster Named As MAC's Player Of Year

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Fred Foster, the fourth highest scorer in Miami's history, was named Monday night as the Mid-American Conference basketball player of the year.

Foster also has been one of the nation's top ten scorers all season. He led the MAC in scoring with a 28.6 average for 12 league games. He connected on 52.8 per cent of his shots from the field and 80.6 per cent from the free throw line.

Earl Monroe, Elgin Baylor Press Bing

NEW YORK (AP) — Dave Bing of Detroit continues as the National Basketball Association scoring race, but Baltimore rookie Earl Monroe and Elgin Baylor of Los Angeles are putting on the pressure.

Bing leads Monroe by 139 points and Baylor by 148, according to league statistics released today.

In games through last Sunday, Bing had poured in 1,883 points to 1,744 for Monroe and 1,735 for Baylor.

Wilt Chamberlain of Philadelphia has the top field goal percentage, .579, and leads in rebounds with 1,671. Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati is the free throw percentage leader, .870, and Len Wilkens of St. Louis has the most assists, 614.

Postpone First Aid Course For Coaches

The first aid course for Bill Booth football little league coaches, scheduled to start tonight, has been postponed until a later date.

The course will be conducted by fire Chief Al Van Dyne, who is at present too busy with the aftermath of Sunday's fire to teach the course.

Highest exacta payoff during 1967 at the Yonkers Raceway meeting was $1,027.30 on Nov. 16. Seven and three were the numbers on the third race.

A record number of shooters participated in the men's Annie Oakley event during the Columbiana County Fish and Game Protective Association meet Sunday afternoon.

Thirty-one members, the largest to enter one event in the club's history, stepped up to the firing line, with Bob Cochran the winner.

In other shoots, Joe Brown hit four red birds and George Hercules, Everett Cochran and Glen Ramsey two each. Scoring one hit each were Junior, Dick, Larry, Harold and Bill Cochran, Andy Mellon, Dave Rankin and Lantford Blevins.

Ray Thompson and Gary Tolson scored highest in the protector shoot with two wins. Bob and Buck Cockran, James Lawton and Lantford Blevins, George Hercules and Luther Adkins, Bob Cochran and Glen Ramsey, Jerry Cochran and Harold Walton, Buck McIntosh and Dave Parr and Tolson and Parr had one each.

Carol Faith and Bonnie Cochran scored two wins each in the women's shoot and Darlene Cochran one.

The women's Annie Oakley shoot was won by Bonnie Lee Cochran over seven other contestants.

Waterford Perfecta Season High

The highest perfecta return of the 1968 Waterford Park season was recorded Monday as the combination fo 8 and 7 returned $774.80 in the fourth race.

The seasonal payoff followed on the heels of the record setting perfecta wagering last Saturday which saw $49,114 pushed through the mutuel machines in the seventh race.

Galloping home the winner in a tight finish was Wegothim with Jack Steer in the saddle. Wegothim beat Ancient Era and jockey Robert Wilkerson to the wire and paid $37.40 to win. Ancient Era returned $29.20 to place.

Wegothim is an 8-year-old which is trained by Newell's Tommy Hall and owned by Clifford L. Hall. It was only his second start of the 1968 season. Ancient Era also was making his second 1968 run from the starting gate and came close to making it a winning one. Wegothim won two races in 1967 in 17 tries.

The perfecta return in the fourth race was much higher than the daily double return of $62.60 on the 1-2 combination composed of Rare Daisy and Ja Eu Jo.

Tuesday will be ladies day, with ladies admitted to the grandstand free.

Valley Sub Hits Shot At Buzzer

Farrell Nipped In Overtime

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Al Jackson scored only 31 points in 23 games for Valley High School of New Kensington and was known as something of a defensive specialist.

So it was that Coach Mike Rice put Jackson, a 5-foot-7 senior, in for the first time Monday night with 35 seconds left of an overtime period and Valley trailing Farrell by a point in a WPIAL Class A quarterfinal game.

"He's real quick and good on defense, so I put him in because we had to press to get the ball back," Rice explained.

The Vikings couldn't get it without fouling though, but after they did Jackson flipped home a 23-foot jump shot with one second to go that lifted them to a 58-57 upset and a spot in the semifinals.

"I told them to foul with 15 seconds to go but they didn't go after them right away," Rice said, "and then we fouled the wrong guy. I was going to take Jackson out then to get more height in the lineup but decided to leave him in."

The "wrong guy" was Nick Kucik, a big gun all night who grabbed 19 rebounds, but he missed a chance to wrap it up—just as another Jackson — Phil had done after regulation time when he missed a pair of free throws.

Valley's opponent in Thursday's semifinal will be unbeaten Donora, which methodically made Penn Hills its 21st victim 76-64 in the nightcap of Monday night's doubleheader before 10,848 at the Civic Arena.

Valley won its 22nd game in 24 tries with its two top scorers Torrence Lyle and Craig Confer on the bench with five fouls. Both were finished with more than five minutes to play and Farrell ahead by four but Phil Jackson and Phil Ayers paced the surge that tied it.

Lyle finished with 19 points and Ayers with 11. Game honors went to Dave Johnson of Farrell, who scored 23.

Somerset Scores 41 As Mavericks Win

By The Associated Press

Willie Somerset of Houston acts as if he doesn't want to see the season end, and his 41-point performance Monday night was a step toward prolonging it for the Mavericks.

The 5-foot-9 guard shot Houston into a lead and kept the Mavericks in front en route to a 130-120 victory over Oakland in an American Basketball League game at Houston.

The triumph tightened Houston's hold on fourth place, the last playoff spot, in the Western Division to two games over the Oaks and 2½ over Anaheim.

Denver increased its hold on second place with a 108-98 home victory over third-place Dallas, but the Rockets failed to gain on leading New Orleans, which tumbled Indiana 128-118 at Fort Wayne, Ind., in the only other game.

With the season ending March 22, Houston's two-game lead looks more substantial every day. Somerset's scoring put the Mavericks into an early lead and when the Oaks pulled within 68-64, he took over again and shot Houston into a 95-81 spread.

Jim Hadnot had 28 points for Oakland.

Denver, 2½ games behind New Orleans and now 2½ ahead of Dallas, shot into a 64-50 halftime lead and then had to hang on.

Larry Jones scored 30 points and Lonnie Wright 23 for Denver while John Beasley had 27 for the Chaparrels.

Robinson, Callison Top Lengthy Holdout Roster

Associated Press Sports Writer

Frank Robinson and Johnny Callison feel Baltimore and Philadelphia are adding insult to injury with their money offers to play baseball this year. The Orioles and Phillies, on the other hand, feel Robinson and Callison have added their figures wrong.

As a result of these mixed up mathematics of baseball value, the two slugging outfielders remained two of the biggest name holdouts as major league spring training moves on.

Clete Boyer, third baseman for Atlanta, was another who has not found the right answer in his talks with the Braves.

But some agreeable figures were reached Monday as Frank Howard signed the largest money contract ever, $47,500, by a Washington player; Mel Queen, Tommy Helms and rookie Jay Ritchie ended their holdout with Cincinnati, and the Orioles did come to terms with Dave Johnson and Curt Blefary.

Robinson, however, remained Baltimore's big problem, and if everyone's figures are correct, the American League Triple Crown winner two years ago and the Orioles are $15,000 apart.

Robinson, who sat out a month last season with double vision after a baseline collision and still managed to hit .311 with 94 runs batted in and 30 home runs, says he is standing by $125,000.

Personnel director Harry Dalton of the Orioles, who originally offered last year's $100,000 salary, then raised it to $105,000, reportedly increased his offer to $110,000 Monday after talking to Robinson 1½ hours.

For Callison, a former All-Star outfielder who suffered a torn cartilage last year and played in considerable pain for some time, the problem was a little different. He was being asked to take a cut from the reported $40,000 to $50,000 he got in 1967.

Mahovlich Traded By Leafs

TORONTO (AP) — The switchboard at Maple Leaf Gardens was flooded with angry calls. Outside on the sidewalk, a stunned crowd milled around in confusion. On the local stock exchange, shares of the Garden corporation lost $1.

Frank Mahovlich had been traded.

The veteran left winger—for whom the Maple Leafs had once refused $1 million—went to the Detroit Red Wings Monday in an eight-player deal that aroused indignation throughout Toronto.

A switchboard operator at the Garden said most of the callers were "indignant and some were quite emotional. Many tried to find out who they can write letters of protest to."

San Obodiak of the Leafs' publicity department said most of the callers were "housewives who were stunned at the announcement. There are people milling around on the sidewalk outside of the Garden who want to come in and protest. But only a few have dropped in so far."

Mahovlich, 30, scored 48 goals during the 1960-61 season, and has 296 in his 11-year career, a club record. He has 19 this season, but missed five weeks because of a nervous breakdown.

Six years ago, the Chicago Black Hawks offered the Leafs $1 million for Mahovlich at a late-night cocktail party and the following day, Tommy Ivan of Chicago showed up with a certified check for the amount.

The deal was finally cancelled after a storm of protest from fans similar to the one triggered by the trade Monday.

Rod Gilbert, Stan Mikita Share Lead

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Hockey League's senior East division is enjoying its best race in years and the tension is spilling over into the scoring race.

Just two points separate the top four scorers with New York's Rod Gilbert and Jean Ratelle battling Chicago's Stan Mikita and Bobby Hull for the top spot.

Gilbert and Mikita share the lead today with 73 points apiece while Hull and Ratelle are tied at 71. Mikita, of course, has captured the scoring title three of the last four years with Hull breaking his teammate's string by taking it in 1966.

Boston's Phil Esposito, traded by Chicago during the summer, holds down fifth place with 69 points, three more than Detroit's Gordie Howe. Johnny Bucyk and Fred Stanfield of Boston share the seventh slot with 61 points, Chicago's Ken Wharram has 59 and Alex Delvecchio of Detroit 58.

Hull's 42 goals lead the league while Ratelle and Gilbert, with 44 assists apiece, are tops in that department.

Edinboro, Westminster Win In NAIA

BEAVER FALLS, Pa. (AP)—Westminster and Edinboro have advanced to the NAIA District 18 basketball finals with narrow victories. They'll play here Wednesday night for a spot in the national tournament at Kansas City starting March 11.

Edinboro outscored Gannon 18-2 in the final 8:47 of their game at Meadville Monday night to win 55-52.

Meanwhile Westminster, ranked 15th by the NAIA, scored 14 straight points near the end to pull away from Indiana 66-59 at Geneva College.

Jim Robinson and Don Dougan paced Edinboro's victory with 15 points each, including 8 and 6, respectively, in the closing rally. Al Chrisman scored 18 for Gannon.

Miami's Foster Named As MAC's Player Of Year

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Fred Foster, the fourth highest scorer in Miami's history, was named Monday night as the Mid-American Conference basketball player of the year.

Foster also has been one of the nation's top ten scorers all season. He led the MAC in scoring with a 28.6 average for 12 league games. He connected on 52.8 per cent of his shots from the field and 80.6 per cent from the free throw line.

Earl Monroe, Elgin Baylor Press Bing

NEW YORK (AP) — Dave Bing of Detroit continues as the National Basketball Association scoring race, but Baltimore rookie Earl Monroe and Elgin Baylor of Los Angeles are putting on the pressure.

Bing leads Monroe by 139 points and Baylor by 148, according to league statistics released today.

In games through last Sunday, Bing had poured in 1,883 points to 1,744 for Monroe and 1,735 for Baylor.

Wilt Chamberlain of Philadelphia has the top field goal percentage, .579, and leads in rebounds with 1,671. Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati is the free throw percentage leader, .870, and Len Wilkens of St. Louis has the most assists, 614.

Postpone First Aid Course For Coaches

The first aid course for Bill Booth football little league coaches, scheduled to start tonight, has been postponed until a later date.

The course will be conducted by fire Chief Al Van Dyne, who is at present too busy with the aftermath of Sunday's fire to teach the course.

Highest exacta payoff during 1967 at the Yonkers Raceway meeting was $1,027.30 on Nov. 16. Seven and three were the numbers on the third race.

Russians Ask Ban On South Africa

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union today demanded that the International Olympic Committee cancel its decision to let South Africa take part in the Mexico Summer Olympics.

The Central Council of Soviet sports clubs and organizations issued a statement calling the IOC decision "a challenge to all public opinion." It said this was "fraught with serious consequences for the very Olympic movement and places in jeopardy the 19th Olympic Games."

But the statement, carried by the official news agency Tass, did not explicitly threaten that the Soviet Union would boycott the Mexico Olympics if the Original IOC decision is allowed to stand.

The governing body of Soviet Sports accused the members of the IOC who voted for South Africa's readmission of "most flagrantly violating the Olympic charter banning political, racialist or religious discrimination against sportsmen."

Waterford Perfecta Season High

The highest perfecta return of the 1968 Waterford Park season was recorded Monday as the combination fo 8 and 7 returned $774.80 in the fourth race.

The seasonal payoff followed on the heels of the record setting perfecta wagering last Saturday which saw $49,114 pushed through the mutuel machines in the seventh race.

Galloping home the winner in a tight finish was Wegothim with Jack Steer in the saddle. Wegothim beat Ancient Era and jockey Robert Wilkerson to the wire and paid $37.40 to win. Ancient Era returned $29.20 to place.

Wegothim is an 8-year-old which is trained by Newell's Tommy Hall and owned by Clifford L. Hall. It was only his second start of the 1968 season. Ancient Era also was making his second 1968 run from the starting gate and came close to making it a winning one. Wegothim won two races in 1967 in 17 tries.

The perfecta return in the fourth race was much higher than the daily double return of $62.60 on the 1-2 combination composed of Rare Daisy and Ja Eu Jo.

Tuesday will be ladies day, with ladies admitted to the grandstand free.

Stores Plan Reopenings

—:—

THE DIRECTOR issued instructions to the street department this morning to remove barricades on the stretch as soon as a small quantity of debris had been swept from the pavement. He said it should be in use again before noon. The stretch was cleaned yesterday with the city's mechanical sweeper. Later, some debris tumbled from the old Opera House building at E. 6th and Crook Alley, which housed the Bricker Isaly Dairy and cafeteria.

All vehicular traffic still is banned on the Diamond and Market St. between 5th and 6th Sts. The ban was necessary because of the work on razing the Siff Building. Vodrey said the stretch will be reopened as soon as the structure has been leveled and debris has been hauled away.

The Siff store, managed by William McWhorter of St. Clair Ave., was struck by the fire along with Roberts' late Sunday afternoon. The flames spread quickly to the Isaly Dairy building which houses that company, the Outdoor Army Store and the former Bendheim Shoe Store.

CREWS FROM the Mike Pusateri Excavating Co., using a crane and "headache" ball, were demolishing the Siff structure, and yesterday afternoon took off the top - most portion of the Isaly building to make it safe for the present.

Paul Braslawsce, owner of the Arrow Pants Shop adjacent to the Siff Building, said he has no plans yet either for reopening or closing his shop. However, Frank Diamond, owner of a mens store in the Thomoson Building, which received little damage, said he will reopen as soon as feasible.

Harold Bricker, owner of the Isaly Dairy Store, and S. A. Weiner, proprietor of the Outdoor Army Store, both said they hope to reopen as soon as possible. Atty. Ben Berman who represents the owners of the former Bendheim building, said he is uncertain what the owners of that portion of the structure will do.

Lawrence Siff of Cincinnati and David Siff of Akron, brothers of the late Julius Siff, whose estate owned the shoe store building, could not be located for comment on the property. Lawrence Siff was said to be in Mobile, Ala., while David is reportedly vacationing in Miami Beach, Fla.

The Ostrov Insurance Agency at Akron, which is handling the Siff claim, said it has received no reports yet and so is unable to list the total damage to that building. A company spokesman said he is unsure what the future of the property will be.

VANDYNE said the immediate concern for demolishing the Siff Building is for the public safety, so the contractor will merely push the debris into the basement. After the insurance claims are settled, Van Dyne said, the rubble will have to be cleared away.

The Robert Schlang family has announced no plans for another jewelry store in the area. All the contents of the store were either burned or buried under tons of rubble and water.

Red Cross Offers Aid To Families In Blaze

Families whose living quarters were involved in the fire which hit the business section along Market and E. 6th St. Sunday and are in need of assistance may notify the Area Red Cross Chapter.

Dave Sakol, a spokesman for American Legion Post 4, which also lost everything in the fire, said members believe the total loss is about $5,000. Sakol said nothing was saved, although a safe with some money in it probably will be recovered later.

Sakol indicateda settlement with the insurance company will be forthcoming soon. The group will meet for the next several weeks in the Ohio Valley Gas Co. offices on W. 6th St. An emergency meeting was held last night, he added.

Sakol explained the post also lost all the records of servicemen and members' records of terms of service in the armed forces.

Gas Rate

lation in February, Solicitor J. Michael Kapp said it would save the 6,000 East Liverpool gas customers a total of $25,260 over the four years. Most of the saving — a total of $19,260—would result from delaying the effective date of the rate increase until April 16, he said. The boost granted by the former Council would have gone into effect in late January.

A slight decrease in the rate structure in the third year of the new agreement will save customers $6,000, Kapp said. Other than that feature, the rate structure is the same as provided in the legislation that was enacted by the 1966-67 Council, he conceded.

Kapp said the raises provided in the new ordinance average out to 11.88 per cent over the four years, compared with 12.33 per cent in the rescinded legislation.

WHEN THE measure was presented for second reading last night, only one dissenting vote was cast. Sample moved for the second reading, seconded by Wilson. Massey voted "no." Burcham, Duffy, Lowe, Murray, Sample and Wilson cast "yes" votes.

Duffy commented that he voted for the ordinance on second reading to allow the question to come onto the floor, but added he would oppose the legislation on any motion for suspension of rules. Duffy reviewed the history of the rescinded rate legislation and added that Council's planning committee worked six months last year threshing out an agreement with the utility.

"Kapp says this new ordinance will save the people money," Duffy said. "An editorial in the Review said it would save them five-one-hundredths of a penny in the rate in the third year. They throw a few crumbs to you and you fall for it. Don't sell the people down the river!"

Massey reiterated his position that a City Council does not have the right to negotiate rates with a public utility.

"This Council voted out an agreement with the gas company on the pretext that it would get a better rate, even if it had to go to Columbus," Massey continued. "This wasn't done. I don't criticize anyone. I realize it takes a lot of time and money to fight a case before the PUCO. But I think this is a slap in the face to the previous Council which worked so hard, since a better agreement didn't materialize. I'm against it."

—:—

MASSEY ALSO repeated a previous argument that all communities in the area served by Ohio Valley Gas should band together the next time a rate boost is sought and hire experts to present their case before the PUCO. He said such a move was attempted four years ago, but two communities downriver which had agreed to cooperate backed out and signed separate agreements with the utility.

The ordinance then was put to a vote on suspension of rules, on motion of Sample and Wilson, and the move was defeated, 4-3.

James Garwood of Bank St. appeared personally before Council to speak against a gas rate hike. He said a firm at Cleveland which has the same parent concern as Ohio Valley Gas has been ordered by the Federal Power Commission to reduce rates retroactively because of a decline in the wholesale price of gas.

Jail

kept in Brooke and Ohio Counties, entailining transportation costs by the county. Suitable quarters also must be found for the sheriff's office equipment and files. Space for this will probably be rented, the commissioners said.

The Johnson bid called for 365 days of construction time, with the cost of "extras" pegged at 25 per cent for work done by the contractor and 15 per cent for work of sub-contractors. Cox said he would finish the job in 300 days, with the cost of "extras" set at 15 per cent for work performed by his firm and 10 per cent for the work done by sub-contractors.

Commissioners said the present contract price is for construction of the building only. Light fixtures, plumbing and jail equipment were deleted when the prices exceeded the amount of funds available. These were the "extras" the firms listed in the bids.

The commissioners also held a discussion of plans to move the prisoners and the sheriff's office staff and equipment as soon as possible.

Some ground work on this was laid at the meeting but the entire problem will be discussed at a meeting Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. with the concerned office heads.

In other action, the Hancock County Courier was awarded the contract to print tax tickets. Its bid was $1,850. The only other firm submitting a bid was the Avon Printing Co. of Weirton, with a bid of $1,923.50.

The contract calls for the printing of 18,000, 7-part personal property tax bills and 1,000 single copies of auto receipt forms.

Stores Plan Reopenings

south side of E. 6th because of the continuing possibility of debris falling from one of the fire - damaged buildings, the director added.

—:—

THE DIRECTOR issued instructions to the street department this morning to remove barricades on the stretch as soon as a small quantity of debris had been swept from the pavement. He said it should be in use again before noon. The stretch was cleaned yesterday with the city's mechanical sweeper. Later, some debris tumbled from the old Opera House building at E. 6th and Crook Alley, which housed the Bricker Isaly Dairy and cafeteria.

All vehicular traffic still is banned on the Diamond and Market St. between 5th and 6th Sts. The ban was necessary because of the work on razing the Siff Building. Vodrey said the stretch will be reopened as soon as the structure has been leveled and debris has been hauled away.

The Siff store, managed by William McWhorter of St. Clair Ave., was struck by the fire along with Roberts' late Sunday afternoon. The flames spread quickly to the Isaly Dairy building which houses that company, the Outdoor Army Store and the former Bendheim Shoe Store.

CREWS FROM the Mike Pusateri Excavating Co., using a crane and "headache" ball, were demolishing the Siff structure, and yesterday afternoon took off the top - most portion of the Isaly building to make it safe for the present.

Paul Braslawsce, owner of the Arrow Pants Shop adjacent to the Siff Building, said he has no plans yet either for reopening or closing his shop. However, Frank Diamond, owner of a mens store in the Thompson Building, which received little damage, said he will reopen as soon as feasible.

Harold Bricker, owner of the Isaly Dairy Store, and S. A. Weiner, proprietor of the Outdoor Army Store, both said they hope to reopen as soon as possible. Atty. Ben Berman who represents the owners of the former Bendheim building, said he is uncertain what the owners of that portion of the structure will do.

Lawrence Siff of Cincinnati and David Siff of Akron, brothers of the late Julius Siff, whose estate owned the shoe store building, could not be located for comment on the property. Lawrence Siff was said to be in Mobile, Ala., while David is reportedly vacationing in Miami Beach, Fla.

The Ostrov Insurance Agency at Akron, which is handling the Siff claim, said it has received no reports yet and so is unable to list the total damage to that building. A company spokesman said he is unsure what the future of the property will be.

VANDYNE said the immediate concern for demolishing the Siff Building is for the public safety, so the contractor will merely push the debris into the basement. After the insurance claims are settled, Van Dyne said, the rubble will have to be cleared away.

The Robert Schlang family has announced no plans for another jewelry store in the area. All the contents of the store were either burned or buried under tons of rubble and water.

Red Cross Offers Aid To Families In Blaze

Families whose living quarters were involved in the fire which hit the business section along Market and E. 6th St. Sunday and are in need of assistance may notify the Area Red Cross Chapter.

Dave Sakol, a spokesman for American Legion Post 4, which also lost everything in the fire, said members believe the total loss is about $5,000. Sakol said nothing was saved, although a safe with some money in it probably will be recovered later.

Sakol indicateda settlement with the insurance company will be forthcoming soon. The group will meet for the next several weeks in the Ohio Valley Gas Co. offices on W. 6th St. An emergency meeting was held last night, he added.

Sakol explained the post also lost all the records of servicemen and members' records of terms of service in the armed forces.

Gas Rate

lation in February, Solicitor J. Michael Kapp said it would save the 6,000 East Liverpool gas customers a total of $25,260 over the four years. Most of the saving — a total of $19,260—would result from delaying the effective date of the rate increase until April 18, he said. The boost granted by the former Council would have gone into effect in late January.

A slight decrease in the rate structure in the third year of the new agreement will save customers $6,000, Kapp said. Other than that feature, the rate structure is the same as provided in the legislation that was enacted by the 1966-67 Council, he conceded.

Kapp said the raises provided in the new ordinance average out to 11.88 per cent over the four years, compared with 12.33 per cent in the rescinded legislation.

WHEN THE measure was presented for second reading last night, only one dissenting vote was cast. Sample moved for the second reading, seconded by Wilson. Massey voted "no." Burcham, Duffy, Lowe, Murray, Sample and Wilson cast "yes" votes.

Duffy commented that he voted for the ordinance on second reading to allow the question to come onto the floor, but added he would oppose the legislation on any motion for suspension of rules. Duffy reviewed the history of the rescinded rate legislation and added that Council's planning committee worked six months last year threshing out an agreement with the utility.

"Kapp says this new ordinance will save the people money," Duffy said. "An editorial in the Review said it would save them five-one-hundredths of a penny in the rate in the third year. They throw a few crumbs to you and you fall for it. Don't sell the people down the river!"

Massey reiterated his position that a City Council does not have the right to negotiate rates with a public utility.

"This Council voted out an agreement with the gas company on the pretext that it would get a better rate, even if it had to go to Columbus," Massey continued. "This wasn't done. I don't criticize anyone. I realize it takes a lot of time and money to fight a case before the PUCO. But I think this is a slap in the face to the previous Council which worked so hard, since a better agreement didn't materialize. I'm against it."

—:—

MASSEY ALSO repeated a previous argument that all communities in the area served by Ohio Valley Gas should band together the next time a rate boost is sought and hire experts to present their case before the PUCO. He said such a move was attempted four years ago, but two communities downriver which had agreed to cooperate backed out and signed separate agreements with the utility.

The ordinance then was put to a vote on suspension of rules, on motion of Sample and Wilson, and the move was defeated, 4-3.

James Garwood of Bank St. appeared personally before Council to speak against a gas rate hike. He said a firm at Cleveland which has the same parent concern as Ohio Valley Gas has been ordered by the Federal Power Commission to reduce rates retroactively because of a decline in the wholesale price of gas.

Theft

Sunday night. Lonnie Lee Whittington of Chester RD 1, the attendant, was treated at City Hospital for the effects of the gas sprayed into his eyes and mouth.

Sams did not require treatment. The robber uses a black ski mask to cover his face. He was wearing a red jacket.

Board Meeting Held

Beaver Local Approves Programs For Summer

Plans for summer school programs in the Beaver Local School District were approved during a meeting of the board of education Monday night.

Kindergarten sessions will be held June 10 - July 19 at the Calcutta, West Point, Elkton and Rogers elementary schools.

Primary school makeup work will be offered June 10 - July 5 at the four elementary buildings, Supt. Roy Cashdollar said. Students may attend only the class in which they showed weakness.

Summer school for junior high school students will be held June 10 - July 19 in mathematics, science, English and social studies for remedial or makeup purposes. High school summer sessions will be held the same period.

Seven teachers will be assigned to the high school program under Title One federal program. Any parochial student in the area is eligible to attend.

UNDER A special Title One grant, money will be provided for free music lessons during the summer by John Huebert and Robert Sprague, instructors.

The board adopted the provision set by state law for all children to be 6 years old by Sept. 30 for entrance into first grade, starting in 1969. Children must be 6 by Sept. 15 this year to start school.

It was announced the state has approved plans for a full home economics program at the high school next fall if details can be arranged and a teacher hired.

Cashdollar said a state consultant conducted a survey at the school last week. Currently only a supplementary home economics course is offered. The full vocational type training would begin in September. Also approved for next fall is occupational work experience program and business office experience.

—:—

IN OTHER action, the board authorized William Miller, clerk, to advertise for bids for four new school buses.

The board accepted the resignation of bus driver Clark Birch and appointed Nancy McLaughlin of the Y. & O. Rd. as a driver and Gene Gilbert of Stagecoach Rd. as a substitute bus driver.

Mrs. Gladys Hofstetter was named head cook at Rogers, succeeding Mrs. Etta Baker; who resigned for health reasons. The board thanked Mrs. Baker for her long service at the school.

The Community Action Committee of Columbiana County was granted permission to use the Rogers School June 26-Aug. 16 for a "Head Start" program. The board also approved the countywide calendar for 1968-69, a coordinated calendar for all public and parochial schools.

APPROVAL WAS given for submitting an application for a Title Three grant of $1,910 for an electric duplicator, biology material and library books.

Cashdollar announced baccalaureate will be held June 2 and commencement June 3. The annual prom is set for May 17.

Peter Metrovich was named coach of a proposed golf team to be organized if a course for home matches can be obtained.

Ted Taylor reported on the finances of the Athletic Association, adding all equipment for the next season has been ordered.

The board will attend a meeting of the Elkton Parent - Teacher Organization for a panel discussion Monday. Approval was given James Kunkle, Rogers junior, for early dismissal for work purposes.

The next meeting will be April 1.

Jail

kept in Brooke and Ohio Counties, entailining transportation costs by the county. Suitable quarters also must be found for the sheriff's office equipment and files. Space for this will probably be rented, the commissioners said.

The Johnson bid called for 365 days of construction time, with the cost of "extras" pegged at 25 per cent for work done by the contractor and 15 per cent for work of sub-contractors. Cox said he would finish the job in 300 days, with the cost of "extras" set at 15 per cent for work performed by his firm and 10 per cent for the work done by sub-contractors.

Commissioners said the present contract price is for construction of the building only. Light fixtures, plumbing and jail equipment were deleted when the prices exceeded the amount of funds available. These were the "extras" the firms listed in the bids.

The commissioners also held a discussion of plans to move the prisoners and the sheriff's office staff and equipment as soon as possible.

Some ground work on this was laid at the meeting but the entire problem will be discussed at a meeting Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. with the concerned office heads.

In other action, the Hancock County Courier was awarded the contract to print tax tickets. Its bid was $1,850. The only other firm submitting a bid was the Avon Printing Co. of Weirton, with a bid of $1,923.50.

The contract calls for the printing of 18,000, 7-part personal property tax bills and 1,000 single copies of auto receipt forms.

Brush Fires Quelled In Cumberland Area

NEW CUMBERLAND — The fire department was called to extinguish two grass fires Monday afternoon.

The first call came about 1 when a field near the Jenkin's property on Holberts Run was reported burning. The origin of the blaze was unknown. The Oakland fire department was called to assist when strong winds threatened to blow the fire out of control.

A second fire broke out about 4 p. m. when a child dropped a burning book of matches into dry grass in a lot on S. Chestnut St.

Firemen reported the child, playing with matches, struck one which ignited the rest, frightening him and causing him to drop the whole book.

The first dental school in the United States opened in Bainbridge, Ohio, in 1825.

Eastern Star Meeting Held

Fifty-seven attended a meeting of the Past Matrons and Past Patrons of Northern Panhandle Eastern Stars Saturday night in the Weirton Community Center. A smorgasbord dinner was served, with the Weirton Chapter host.

The next meeting will be June 1 in the Chester Masonic Lodge.

The firm has been the airport engineer since the project was undertaken in the summer of 1966.

Commissioners authorized West Township trustees to reduce load limits by 50 per cent on 10 roads to prevent damage during spring thaws.

The City of Wellsville was paid $7 for destroying 14 stray dogs during February.

The 41-year-old Seay, formerly of Pittsburgh, appeared before Squire John D. Herron Monday night and was charged with escape. He was bound over to the April term of the Hancock County grand jury without bond.

Junior Editors Quiz on NORTHERN LIGHTS

QUESTION: What causes the northern lights?

ANSWER: Our artist has drawn a dramatic picture of the kind of bleak but imposing country found along the coast of Greenland. Snow and ice blanket jagged rocks, in front of which glide ghostly icebergs. Extraordinary shapes of misty light are reaching upward in the northeast sky; in actuality, these could be seen to be slowly changing in shape and brightness. They are the aurora borealis or northern lights, effects which are greatest at times when many sunspots appear on the sun's surface (lower right). High charges of electric particles are thought to be emitted from the sun at such times and it is believed that the magnetic poles of the earth attract them. The particles then collide with gases in earth's atmosphere, which causes them to glow similar to the way in which light glows inside a fluorescent light tube. Since the earth's North magnetic pole is located far to the norh, he norhern lights are more visible in northern regions. But there is a similar kind of display seen as one approaches the south magnetic pole, called aurora australis.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

DEAR FOLKS: Not just you gals, but you gentlemen, too.

We read the directions, tear off the end of the box, pour the vegetables in the pan to cook and throw the box in the garbage.

Don't do this.

Rip off the entire label and just see how pretty that little box is. Ninety-nine out of a hundred times the box will be clean inside 'cause these frozen vegetables don't seem to stick to it.

I always save leftovers, or a double portion of something, don't you? So instead of putting it in plastic bags which incidentally stack worse than old Billy-Ned in your freezers, use these gorgeous waxed boxes. You can place a rubber band around the box to hold it shut.

And whether you know it or not, even though they are waxed, both a grease pencil and an ink felt-tip marker work fine to label the contents on the box.

Here's another secret I learned. Instead of just writing what is in that box on one side, I write it on the top and the back edge, too. The reason for the back edge is, if you have an upright freezer with shelves in the door, you can still see what's in that box without taking it out. You talk about saving freezer space, it's absolutely rule No. 1 for me.

For those who want to be real, real sanitary, you can put a plastic bag inside, then pour your vittles in.

Now isn't that tricky? You should see how neat my freezer is now.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: When I have tulip bulbs, iris, or any bulb plant that I wish to move so as to give a variety of colors, here's what I do. I tie one string loosely around the bottom of the foliage for one color, two strings for another color, etc., making a list of the number of strings and the colors.

Then when the blooms are gone, I refer to my list and replant the bulbs where I want them.

This way I know how to arrange the colors in my flower beds for the prettiest effect.

HENRY EISENMAN.

DEAR HELOISE: I always had trouble with my vinyl floors wearing badly from tracked-in mud, etc., and have to scrub them quite often.

I put down some colorful adhesive - backed plastic just inside the back door in the corner so overshoes and boots could be put on it.

When I got new flooring, I didn't want it covered up, so I used the clear adhesive - backed plastic.

I put it down last September and haven't changed it. It sure saves the floors and can can be replaced anytime. Others having this problem may want to give it a try.

MRS. BROWN.

DEAR HELOISE: I have made and hemmed many pairs of drapes.

In the past few years, I've found an easy way to hem them so the bottoms will be parallel with the floor.

I use a dress marker with chalk on dark colors and pins on light colors while the drapery is hanging on the window rod.

The marker adjusts from the floor up so the drapes and linens can be done together or separately. If drapery rods are uneven, the hems will still be the same length from the floor where it really shows. Using this method makes this job a breeze for me.

MRS. JOYCE OWENS.

DEAR HELOISE: Here is a hint for all those who bake that delicious frozen bread that comes in the small loaves.

After it is baked, slice the whole loaf at once and put it back into the plastic bag it came in.

Saves getting out the bread board every meal. Also eliminates those crooked slices cut by the kiddies.

FRAN.

DEAR HELOISE: When I find I'm growing low on dish towels or cloths or maybe men's undershirts, I buy one each time I go to the grocery store and I never miss the money this way.

I just finished buying my husband six new undershirts and today I started on dish cloths!

The DOCTOR Says

By DR. W. G. BRANDSTADT

Q—In a recent column you said that female hormone causes calcium deposits in the body, or am I misquoting you? I have been taking Premarin and recently my finger joints have been painful. What would cause this?

Dr. Brandstadt

A—Women who are past 50 are prone to develop osteoporosis (decalcification) of the spine which, in advanced cases, may lead to collapse of one or more vertebrae. Female hormones help to prevent this decalcification but they do not cause excessive calcium deposits. The pain in your joints is most likely due to the arthritis that so often accompanies aging.

Q—My doctor, just by looking at me, said I had a lack of calcium. How could she tell without making any tests? What symptoms would it cause?

A—A lack of calcium may be diagnosed by determining the blood calcium level or by signs of decalcification of bones as seen in X-ray films. I know of no other way to tell.

A calcium deficiency may be associated with a deficiency of parathyroid hormone, in which case muscular spasms in the hands and nervous irritability would be prominent symptoms. If you have an uncomplicated calcium deficiency, you might have no symptoms at all or a weakness in the bones might develop.

Q—I have taken calcium tablets for two years. Can one take too much calcium?

A—An adult should get about 800 milligrams of calcium a day. When much larger amounts are taken, practically all of the excess passes through the digestive tract and is not absorbed into the blood. An excess of calcium in the blood may, however, occur in such diseases as hyperthyroidism, vitamin D poisoning, multiple myeloma and sarcoidosis.

Q—I had hay fever since 1939 until I moved to Miami, Fla., two years ago. If I paid a visit up north in August, would my hay fever return?

A—Miami is a favored spot in that it has a very low ragweed pollen index. The pollen index in northern communities varies widely, with peaks reached in August. If you return to the area where you had trouble before, it is very likely that your hay fever will return.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of this newspaper. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

Club Launches Drive For Paper, Plans Activities

Plans were made for a paper drive through April 2 when the Penova Citizens Band Radio Club met Sunday night in the clubhouse near Wellsville.

Those interested in contributing may contact Charles McCoy of East Liverpool for "pick-ups."

The painting of the clubhouse inside and out was discussed. The club donated the use of the hall to the Little League Ball club of East Liverpool for a "coffee break" April 21 to raise funds.

Ralph Coleman, president, presided; Vic Pucci served as secretary pro-tem, and McCoy as treasurer pro-tem. Members brought non-perishable goods for baskets for the needy.

Pauline and Ellsworth Moore of 15th St. Heights, Wellsville, were enrolled as members. Eli Sainocich of Route 1, Industry, was a guest. A special meeting will be held March 13 so that officers may plan future activities, including a "coffee break" March 17 beginning at 2 p. m.

The club shortened its meeting so that McCoy and other members could rush to East Liverpool with coffee for firemen and offer other assistance.

The Road Roamers Club of East Liverpool was granted the use of the hall for a "coffee break" April 7. An egg hunt for the children and a "coffee break" for guests will be held April 14 in the hall by the Penova Club.

Hoover Firm, Union Agree On New Pact

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — The Hoover Co. and the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers have agreed on a new three-year contract that will provide just over 70 cents an hour in wages and fringe benefits for 2,200 workers at the plant in North Canton.

Local 1985 of the IBEW approved the pact over the weekend, 702-495.

Former Baseball Star's Son Faces Narcotics Charge

STAMFORD, Conn. (AP) — Jackie Robinson Jr., is facing charges today of possessing narcotics.

The 21-year-old son of the first Negro to break into major league baseball was arraigned Monday after local detectives said they confiscated several packets of heroin and a pouch of marijuana in the young man's apartment.

"We have obviously failed somewhere," Jack Sr. told reporters after the arraignment before Circuit Court Judge George Dicenzo.

In the courtroom earlier, Jack Jr. had tried to plead guilty to charges of possessing narcotics and carrying a concealed weapon. The police said they also found a .22-caliber pistol made in Italy when they arrested him early Monday.

But Judge Dicenzo told young Robinson that he would be able to enter a plea later. The date for a hearing was set for March 11.

Jack Sr. told reporters that he blamed himself for his son's predicament. An adviser to New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, Robinson said he has been away from home too often and too long.

"I had the feeling something was wrong, but I couldn't get through to him," he said of his son.

Jack Jr., who was returned from Vietnam last year after receiving shrapnel wounds in action with the U.S. Army, lived in his own apartment, his father said.

Apartment Complex Slated In Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP)— A program to build a $12 million apartment building complex in University Circle will begin almost immediately, following the announcement in Washington that the government has lifted a freeze on urban renewal funds for Cleveland.

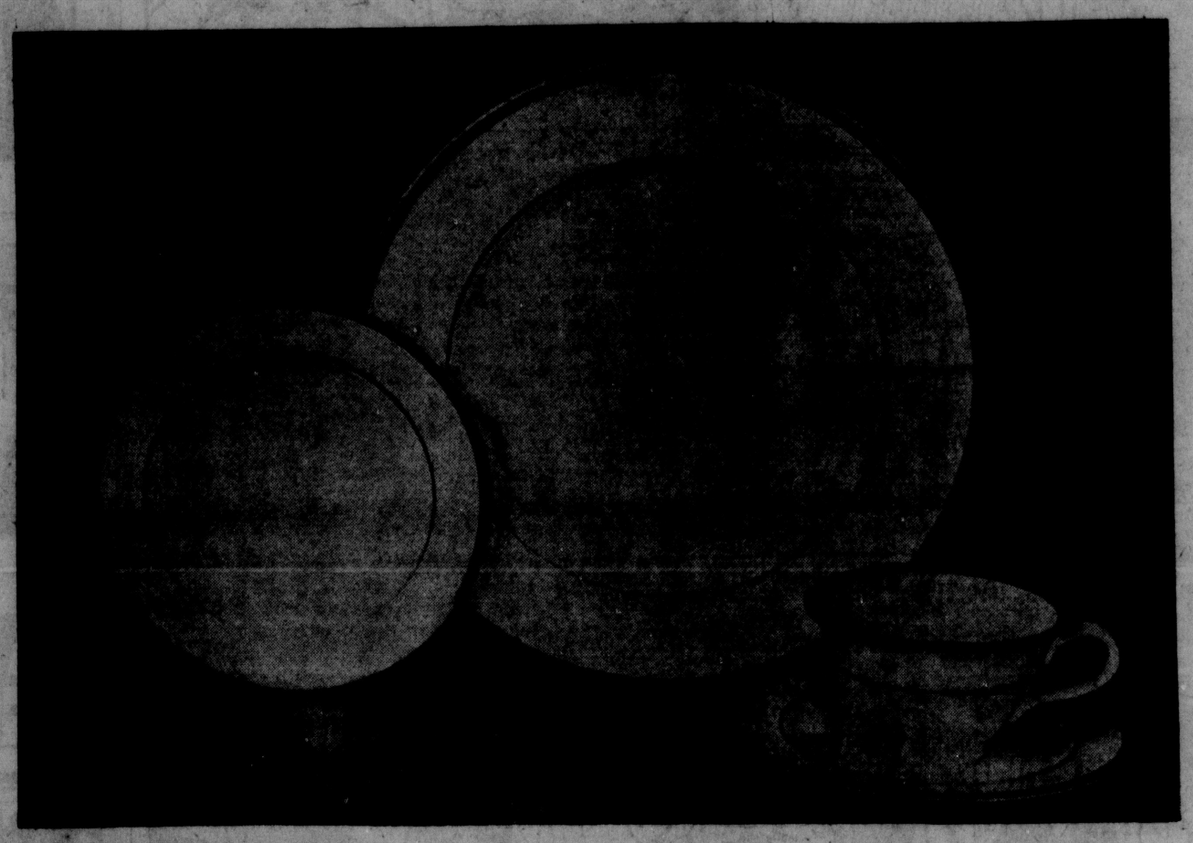

Federal money was cut off to the city in January, 1967, when Robert C. Weaver, secretary of the Department of Housing and Urban Development, said progress was too slow on all projects, particularly in the Hough portion of the University-Euclid project.

THE PENNEY STORY

By ROBERTA NASH

Once upon a time, women wanted their friends to think all their dresses came from the expensive stores with fancy labels.

But today it seems to be part of the fun to say, "I picked it up at Penneys."

The editor of a famous women's magazine believes today's woman is more certain of her own good taste when she goes shopping. She knows quality and style and she knows what's right for her — and she doesn't need the reassurance of a hefty price tag.

"Never any argument from anyone"

We received the following unsolicited letter from California:

Dear Penneys:

I am really satisfied with the service I get at your store. I have a friend out of the state who sends things from the Penney store where she lives. Sometimes she sends the wrong size and I go to my Penney store and exchange the things. There is never any argument from anyone — they are so cooperative.

Bring your confidence to Penneys

By ROBERTA NASH

"We strive constantly to see that a customer does better day in and day out by buying Penney merchandise," said one of our vice presidents. "And that doesn't just mean better prices, it all has to start with better merchandise."

Later, I asked a man in Penney's Testing Center how we are sure what's best. "Often we're not sure," he said, "so we have to find out. That's what all these people and machines are for."

I looked at the tests in progress and I felt very confident of Penney quality. You would have, too.

How the college crowd discovered Penneys

By ROBERTA NASH

My niece put me wise to how it happened in her case. "I went in for some stuff — like a bedspread, and things — for my dorm room.

"Well, on the way I walked by these cool sweaters and skirts, like I never thought Penney's sold. Dresses, too. They were terrific.

"So I got everything I needed without running all over and I saved a bundle besides. You know, Aunt Roberta, Penneys is a lot more hip than they used to be. You ought to tell people about it."

Just in time for spring... bold print jersey shifts priced at only 5.99

Bright Caprolan® jersey prints, bonded with tricot for shape keeping . . . styled in your favorite shift shapes . . . priced so low you'll want them all! Hand washable for easy care. Sizes 8 to 18. Hurry for these!
